BONDED WAREHOUSE ACCOUNT.

QUANTITIES of the PRINCIPAL ARTICLES IMPORTED (subject to Duty) IN WAREHOUSE on 31st December 1862; RECEIVED INTO, and DELIVERED FROM WAREHOUSE in the Year 1863; and REMAINING IN WAREHOUSE on 31st December 1863, at the PRINCIPAL BONDING PORTS in the UNITED KINGDOM.

IN THE YEAR

1863.

NOTE.—As inaccuracies are sometimes supposed to occur in this Account, because discrepancies appear, if the Stock remaining in Warehouse be compared with the difference between the Total Imports of an Article and the subsequent Exports and Entries for Home Consumption, the following explanations are given to show that this Account is not susceptible of verification in the manner described:

In the compilation of the Bonded Warehouse Account, every document is used which substantiates a receipt or delivery under any circumstances, and this Account therefore presents an accurate view of the Stock in Warehouse both at the commencement and termination of the period which it embraces.

The column headed "Received into the Warehouse during the Year" includes:—

The Articles which, having been warehoused at one Port, were removed and re-warehoused at another and under the head of "Wine" it also includes the increase of quantity caused by the addition of Spirits for the purpose of fortifying the Wine in Warehouse.

The column headed "Delivered from the Warehouse during the Year" includes:—

The Articles which, having been warehoused at one Port, were removed and re-warehoused at another.

The Deliveries of the respective Articles for Home Consumption, on payment of Duty.

The Exports of the respective Articles, less the Quantities exported on Drawback or otherwise, subsequently to the payment of Duty.

The Quantities of certain Articles delivered free of Duty for removal to the Victualling Stores of Her Majesty's Dockyards, or for the use of the Officers of Her Majesty's Navy and Army; and the Quantities delivered free of Duty to be used as Ships' Stores on board Merchant and Passenger Vessels, as shown in the Supplemental Account, p. 444.

The Quantities of Tea, Tobacco, Pepper, and other Articles taken out of Warehouse to be destroyed in cases of damage.

Under the head of "Brandy" the Quantities used in fortifying Wine in Bond.

Under the head of "Rum" the Quantities Mixed in Bond, with other Spirits, either British or Foreign, to be eventually exported under the denomination of "Mixed Spirits."

As regards the Quantities of Articles Entered for Home Consumption, which are shown in the General Import Account, it is to be remembered that they comprise the Quantities charged with Duty, and passed into consumption immediately on their delivery from the Ship, as well as the Quantities taken out of Warehouse for Home Consumption.

PART I.

INTRODUCTORY AND EXPLANATORY REPORT.

The Judicial Statistics for 1863, compiled by order of the Secretary of State, and now presented to Parliament by command of Her Majesty, have been prepared in the same form as in preceding years under the usual heads of Police, Criminal Proceedings, and Prisons.

The Police Returns are furnished pursuant to the Act of the 19 & 20 Vict., c. 69., by the Chief Constables of Counties, and the Head Officers of Police of every borough maintaining a separate Force, and show the strength and costs of each Force, the number of the criminal classes at large, and the number of indictable offences committed, so far as known to the Police; the number of persons apprehended, and the result of the Proceedings against them previously to trial; the number of Summary Proceedings before Justices, and the punishments awarded. To this are added an account of the Appeals against Convictions by Justices out of Sessions, and details of the Inquests held before Coroners, with the costs.

The Criminal Proceedings, which are the continuation of the long established Criminal Tables, are compiled from Returns supplied by the Clerks of Assize, the Clerks of the Crown, and the Clerks of the Peace, and show the number of persons for trial at Assizes and Sessions within the year; the crimes with which they were charged, and the result of the Proceedings against them. Further, a return is given of the cases brought before the Court for the consideration of Crown Cases reserved; and an account of the sums paid by Government in 1862 for Prosecutions at Assizes and Sessions, and under the Criminal Justice Act, and the Juvenile Offenders Act, with the number of cases and the costs under each head. Also an account of the number and costs of cases prosecuted by the Solicitor of the Treasury.

Under Prisons are shown the total number of persons committed to the local Prisons within the year and the disposal of them, with details of the prison management and expenses. Information is also given with respect to the Convict Prisons, the Reformatories and Industrial Schools, and with regard to Criminal Lunatics.

The strength of the Police and Constabulary Forces as shown in the Returns for the year ended the 29th September 1863 was as follows:

Commissioners and Assistant Commissioners	4
Chief Constables of Counties	56
Head Constables of Boroughs	130
Superintendents	501
Inspectors	741
Serjeants	2,211
Constables	18,471
Additional Constables (appointed for special purposes)	333
Detective Officers	175
Total Police and Constabulary	22,622

POLICE AND CONSTABULARY.

Increase.

The total shows an increase of 461, or rather more than 2 per cent. upon the number for the preceding year. In 1862 there was a still larger increase, viz. 748, or 3·5 per cent. on the number for 1861; and in the latter year a nearly equal increase on the number for the year preceding it.

Since 1858, the first year in which the Constabulary under the Acts of the 2 & 3 Vict. c. 93. and the 19 & 20 Vict. c. 69., could be considered as fully established and the Returns under the latter Act complete, the increase in the total Police and Constabulary as shown in the Returns for 1863, amounts to 2,366 or nearly 12 per cent The Commissioner of Police of the Metropolis, the two Assistant Commissioners, the Commissioner of the City of London Police, and the Chief Constables of Counties or Divisions, continue without change. To all other ranks and classes the increase in 1863 extends, in a greater or less degree, excepting the additional Constables and the Detective Officers, in the numbers of each of which there is a decrease of two in comparison with the numbers for the preceding year.

Composition of the Force.

The numbers composing the different Forces are as follows:—

Constables of Boroughs appointed under the Municipal Corporation Act of 1835 -	6,471
County Constables appointed under the Constabulary Acts of 1839 and 1840 -	8,190
Metropolitan Police Constables appointed under the Police Act of 1829 - -	6,590
Her Majesty's Dockyard, &c. Police - - - - - - -	743
Constables for the City of London appointed under the City Local Act of 1839 -	628
Total Police and Constabulary - - -	22,622

In each description of Force there was an increase in 1863, excepting the City of London Police, which continues without change of numbers.

In the number of Borough Constables the increase was 185, or almost 3 per cent. In the number of County Constables 221, or about 2·8 per cent. In the Metropolitan Police the increase was 24. In the Dockyards Police 31, or about 4·3 per cent.

Proportion to Population.

Calculating with reference to population the number of Police ranges between 1 to 418, the highest proportion, at Hove, and 1 to 7,027, the lowest, at St. Ives in Cornwall, and 1 to 3,316 at Berwick-on-Tweed, in the cases of boroughs maintaining separate forces, and having a population of more than 5,000. In some of the smaller boroughs also where a separate Police is kept, and where the population being under 5,000, no effectual control can be exercised by the Government, the ratio is extremely low, as at Bodmin, where there is a single Policeman to a population of 4,466; at Bradninch, where the proportion is 1 to 4,351; at Helstone, 1 to 3,843; at Flint, where it is 1 to 3,548. In the Counties the highest proportions, 1 to 1,063 of the population will be found in the Isle of Ely, and 1 to 1,104 in Berkshire; the lowest, 1 to 2,733, in Rutland, and 1 to 2,374 in Anglesey.

Costs of the Police, (Table, p. 1.)

No contribution is paid to the City of London on account of Police from the Public Revenue.

The Criminal Classes, (Table, p. 5.)

From the different Police Forces, Returns have been obtained for the year ended 29th September 1863, under the same heads as for preceding years, of the Criminal Classes at large, so far as known, in their respective districts. The restriction with regard to those classed as known thieves and depredators, the adoption of which in the Returns of 1861 apparently had the effect of reducing the number under this head, the number for that year having been only 29,796, against 38,084, the number shown in the Returns for 1860, and against 39,222, the average of the three preceding years, has been continued, persons who, although they may at some time have been convicted of Offences, are believed to have abandoned evil pursuits, and to be living honestly, being excluded from the Returns. The numbers under this head for the years 1862 and 1861 varied only by ten. The number for 1863 shows, as compared with 1862, a decrease of 1,751, or nearly 6 per cent. In the number of receivers of stolen goods, also, there is, as compared with 1862, a decrease of 162, or upwards of 4 per cent. A decrease of 1,156, or nearly 4 per cent., also appears in the number of prostitutes, the greatest proportionate decrease being in those under 16 years of age, and this following a similar decrease in 1862 as compared with 1861. Further, in the number of suspected persons the Returns for 1863 show a decrease as compared with the preceding year of 1,524, or upwards of 4 per cent. In some places, where most marked, the decrease has been accounted for by the statement that of those numbered in the Returns for 1862, some were known in 1863 to be in prison, some to have left the neighbourhood, and some to have reformed. In other places, that the completion of railway or other extensive works had withdrawn from the district the workmen who had been employed and their vicious followers. In the Returns for 1863, an increase is shown in the number of tramps and vagrants, amounting to 4,678, or nearly 16 per cent, as compared with the number in 1862. With regard to this class, it is to be observed, that the method at first adopted of estimating their numbers from the daily average number found by the Police in their respective districts in the month of September having been considered unsatisfactory, as the same migratory parties might be reckoned in the course of the month in different districts and the total number be thus unduly increased, the Police were directed to ascertain instead, for the last years Returns, the numbers who slept in each district on a stated night in September.

The numbers obtained in this manner, with the facilities possessed for the purpose by the Police, who, besides their ordinary opportunities of observing strangers, are generally employed as inspectors of common lodging houses, and assistant relieving officers, appear likely to be more accurate than those obtained by the former method. The increase in the members of this class in the year 1863, was no doubt owing in some degree to the want of employment in the country.

The following Table shows the total number of each of the classes above referred to, for each of the years 1863, 1862, and 1861, with the average of the totals for the three preceding years:—

POLICE AND CONSTABULARY.

From the foregoing it will be seen that notwithstanding the increase of vagrants and and tramps, there is, as compared with 1862, a decrease of 912 in the total of the criminal classes reported as known to the police.

The proportion of the criminal classes, as taken from the Returns for 1863, to the population in the Metropolitan Police District, and the groups of Towns which have been classed together for comparison in former years, is as follows:—

	Criminal classes.	Prostitutes separately.
1. The Metropolis.—Including an average radius of 15 miles round Charing Cross, and comprising the District of the Metropolitan Police and the City of London Police - -	13,236, or 1 in 243·0	5,581, or 1 in 576·3
2. Pleasure Towns.—Brighton, Bath, Dover, Leamington, Gravesend, Scarborough, and Ramsgate - - - - -	2,753, or 1 in 80·8	899, or 1 in 247·5

8. Seats of the Hardware Manufacture.—Birmingham, Sheffield, and Wolverhampton -	4,991, or 1 in 108·6	923, or 1 in 587·3

In the number of the criminal classes generally in the metropolis, as shown in the Returns for 1863, there is an increase of 1,159, or 9·6 per cent. on the number in the preceding year; this increase is composed as follows; of 4 in the number of known thieves, of 155 in the number of suspected persons, and of 1,240 in the number of vagrants and tramps, there being a decrease of 26 in the number of receivers, and of 214 prostitutes.

In the number of prostitutes taken separately, the decrease amounts to 3·7 per cent.

In the pleasure towns an increase is shown under both heads, amounting under the first to 394, or 16·7 per cent., on the number for the preceding year, and under the latter to 17, or 1·9 per cent.

The towns depending upon agricultural districts, show on the contrary, a decrease under both heads, amounting under the first to 198, or 11·2 per cent., and under the second to 19, or 2·7 per cent.

In the numbers for the commercial ports, also, there is a decrease for both classes, (including in the calculation the numbers for Sunderland, which were omitted in the statement made last year). In the number of the criminal classes generally, the decrease in 1863, amounts to 349, or 3·6 per cent.; in the number of prostitutes separately, the decrease is 100, or rather above 2 per. cent.

In the seats of the woollen and worsted manufactures, there is a decrease of 28 in the number of the criminal classes generally, with an increase of 23, or 2·3 per cent. in the number of prostitutes taken separately.

POLICE AND CONSTABULARY.

In the seats of the small and mixed textile fabrics, there is an increase under the first head of 157, or 9 per cent., with a decrease under the second head of 14, or 2·3 per cent.

In the seats of the hardware manufactures, a decrease appears under the first head amounting to 327, or 6·1 per cent., with an increase of 70, or 8·2 per cent. under the second head.

The Rural Districts.

The numbers of each of these classes, as shown in the Returns for 1863, and their proportion to the population in each of the groups of agricultural counties, are as follows:

	Criminal Classes.	Prostitutes separately.
9. Eastern Counties :—
Essex, Norfolk, Suffolk, Lincoln -	6,850 or 1 in 180·1	709 or 1 in 1740·2
10. South and South-western Counties :—
Southampton, Wilts, Dorset, Somerset	12,585 or 1 in 86·2	1,301 or 1 in 834·4
11. Midland Counties :—
Cambridge, Bedford, Northampton, Hertford, Oxford, Bucks, Berks -	7,111 or 1 in 140·0	649 or 1 in 1533·9

As compared with the preceding year, the Returns for 1863 for the Eastern counties, show a decrease in the numbers of the criminal classes generally, amounting to 835, or 11·0 per cent., and in the number of prostitutes taken separately, of 112 or 13·7 per cent; while with regard to the South and South Western counties, there is an increase in the total number of 1,845, or upwards of 17 per cent., a decrease of 45, or upwards of 3 per cent., appearing in the number of prostitutes in these counties. In the numbers for the Midland counties there is a decrease under both heads, amounting for the criminal classes generally, to 650, or 8·4 per cent., and under the other head to 67, or 9·4 per cent.

The variation from year to year in the numbers of these classes in different districts, may no doubt be accounted for by such causes as have been already alluded to, committals to prison, removals for various reasons to other neighbourhoods, deaths, and perhaps in some cases reformation of character.

Estimated number of the criminal classes.

An estimate of the number of the criminal classes, calculated upon the Returns for 1863, in the same manner as for preceding years, gives the following result.

Criminal classes at large (including 33,182 tramps and vagrants) -	126,139
In local prisons (exclusive of debtors and military prisoners) -	17,960
In the convict prisons - - - - - -	8,018
In reformatories - - - - - -	3,268
Total - -	155,385

being an increase of 17, as compared with the number shown for the preceding year.

Houses of bad character, (Table, p. 5.)

In the total number of houses of bad character, the Returns for 1863 show a decrease of 594, or 2·6 per cent., as compared with the number in 1862. Although in the total number of houses, the resort of thieves, &c., there is a decrease the numbers of public houses and of beer shops of this description, show an increase, the former of 22, the latter of 39; the decrease under this head is in the number of coffee shops, and other suspected houses; in all the other classes of houses of bad character, there is a decrease.

Since 1859 there is a decrease of no less than 3,566, or 13·6 per cent., in the number of these houses shown in the returns; and considering that, from the greater experience and knowledge of the police, few such places of resort can now escape observation, their number is probably fully stated in the last returns. The repression of such houses through stricter Police regulation cannot fail to have an effect in the diminution of crime. The numbers, as shown in the Returns for 1863, are as follows:

POLICE AND CONSTABULARY.

Houses of receivers of stolen goods		2,580
Houses the resort of thieves and prostitutes, viz.:
Public houses	2,238
Beer shops	2,461
Coffee shops	434
Other suspected houses	1,585
Brothels and houses of ill-fame		7,204
Tramps' lodging-houses		6,208
Total houses of bad character		22,710

The strength of the Police and Constabulary Forces, and their distribution throughout the Country, and the numbers of the criminal classes at large, so far as known, having now been treated of, the number, nature, and locality of the crimes committed, and the number and disposal of the persons apprehended, have next to be shown.

Indictable offences, (Table, p. 9.)

In the Returns for the year ended 29 September 1863, as is those for former years, these particulars are shown in periods of three months, as given in Table 3.

Crimes and apprehensions.

The number of crimes committed and the number of persons apprehended were as follows:—

	Crimes committed.	Persons apprehended.
October, November, and December	14,356	8,195
January, February, and March	13,606	7,719
April, May, and June	12,380	7,407
July, August, and September	11,869	7,089
Total	52,211	30,410

In the number of crimes committed in 1863 there is a decrease of 1,014, or 2·0 per cent., as compared with the number for the preceding year, while the number of persons apprehended shows an increase of 1,190, or 4·0 per cent., above the number in 1862.

Apprehensions.

The apprehensions were in the proportion of 58·2 per cent. to the number of crimes committed, being a higher proportion than in any preceding year. The proportion in 1862 was 54·9 per cent.: in 1861, 53·5 per cent.: and lower in previous years. It is not of course meant that all the apprehensions within the year were for crimes committed within the year. Some may have been for crimes committed in the preceding year, or even at some former period. For some of the crimes committed within the year the apprehensions may be recorded in future years. It is not possible in a statistical view to follow individual cases to their results. It can only be shown that so many crimes were committed, and so many apprehensions made within a certain period; and for comparison, one period with another, and all statistical purposes, this must be sufficient.

Winter months.

The greater number of crimes committed in the Winter quarters has been always observable, and is more marked with regard to the last than to any of the three preceding years. The number as shown above for the last three months of 1862 is higher than for any period of three months during the last four years. For the first three months of 1863, it will be seen there was a considerable decrease; and for the months of July, August, and September of that year the number is lower than for the corresponding months of any of the three preceding years.

Nature and locality of the Crimes.

The number and nature of the indictable offences committed in each Police District so far as known to the police, are shown in Table 4. In the year ended the 29th September 1863, 121 cases of murder were reported, being three less than in the preceding year; there were 47 attempts to murder, against 63 in 1862; 710 of shooting at, wounding, stabbing, &c. with intent to do bodily harm, against 698 in

POLICE AND CONSTABULARY.

Disposal of the persons apprehended.

The 30,410 persons apprehended charged with indictable offences were disposed of as follows, upon being taken before the Magistrates:—

POLICE AND CONSTABULARY.

	Males.	Females.	TOTAL.
Discharged	6,335	2,913	9,248
Discharged on bail for further appearance if required	47	22	69
Bailed to appear for trial	1,284	270	1,554
Committed for want of sureties	58	11	69
Committed for trial	15,376	4,094	19,470
Total	23,100	7,310	30,410

The number sent for trial and the number discharged were respectively 69·1 and 30·4 per cent. of the total number apprehended. These proportions were in the preceding year 67·5 and 31·8 per cent. respectively; in 1861, 66·8 and 32·4 per cent. With regard to the males, the numbers sent for trial were 76·4 per cent. of the total number of males apprehended; the numbers discharged were 27·4 per cent. With regard to the females, these proportions are respectively 59·6 and 39·8 per cent.

Comparing, under the different classes of offences, the number of offences reported within the year, and the number of persons apprehended for each class of offence, the following results will appear:

Offences against the person.

2,966 offences against the person were reported, and 3,203 persons were apprehended for offences of this class. Of the persons apprehended 739 were discharged by the Magistrates, leaving 2,464 against whom the offences charged may be considered to have been proved. This number is in the proportion of 83 per cent. to the number of offences reported of this class. This proportion in the preceding year, under this class of offences, was 84·7 per cent.; in 1861, it was 81·1 per cent; in 1860, 77·4 per cent.; in 1859, 73·9 per cent.

Against property with violence.

There were 5,433 offences against property with violence; and 3,039 persons were apprehended for offences of this class. Of the persons apprehended, 702 were discharged by the Magistrates, leaving 2,337 as the number against whom the charges were proved, this number being in the proportion of 43 per cent. to the number of offences under this head. Under this class of offences, the proportion in 1862 was 38·8 per cent.; in 1861 it was 38·3 per cent.; in 1860, 36·0 per cent.; and in 1859 the same.

Malicious offences.

762 malicious offences against property were reported; 781 persons were apprehended for offences of this class, of whom 244 were discharged by the Magistrates, leaving 537 as the number against whom the charges were proved, this number being in the proportion of 70·4 per cent. to the number of offences under this head. In the preceding year, under this class of offences, this proportion was 54·3 per cent.; in 1861 it was 49·4 per cent.; in 1860 38·1 per cent.

Other offences.

Taking together the remaining classes, including offences against property without violence, cattle stealing, larcenies, embezzlement, forgery and offences against the currency, offences against the game laws, riot and breaches of the peace, keeping disorderly houses, attempts to commit suicide, &c., the total number of offences reported was 43,050, while 23,387 persons were apprehended for offences of all these descriptions; of the persons so apprehended 7,563 were discharged by the magistrates, leaving 15,824 as the number against whom the charges were proved. This number being in the proportion of 36·7 per cent. to the total number of offences reported under these heads. This proportion, under all these offences, was in 1862, 34·3 per cent.; in 1861, it was 33·1 per cent.; in 1860, 29·4 per cent.

The total number of indictable offences reported, as already stated, was 52,211, and the total number of apprehensions 30,410; the total number of persons discharged by the magistrates was 9,248, leaving 21,162 as the total number of persons against whom the charges were proved, this number being in the proportion of 40·5 per cent. to the total number of offences reported. This proportion, calculating on the total numbers, in the preceding year was 37·4 per cent.; in 1861, it was 36·1 per cent.; in 1860, 32·1 per cent.

POLICE AND CONSTABULARY.

Summary proceedings, (Tables, pp. 21 to 36.)

In addition to the 21,024 persons, who, as shown above, were committed or bailed for trial, and of whom, allowing for the proportion generally found to be discharged or acquitted on trial, nearly 16,000 would be convicted, 283,641 persons were summarily convicted by the Magistrates, being an increase of 10,672, or 3·9 per cent., upon the number for the preceding year. In the total number summarily proceeded against the increase is 12,855, or 3·1 per cent., as compared with the number in 1862.

The offences for which these convictions took place, the number of persons convicted of each description of offence, and the punishments inflicted are shown in Table 8.

The total number of persons summarily proceeded against, and the number convicted and discharged respectively for the year ended 29th September 1863, were as follows :—

	Males.	Females.	TOTAL.
Proceeded against	336,845	85,018	421,863
Convicted	235,251	48,390	283,641
Discharged	101,594	36,628	138,222

The convictions bear a higher proportion to the total number of persons proceeded against than in the preceding years, this proportion being for 1863, 67·2 per cent.; for each of the years 1862 and 1861 it was 66·7 per cent.; for 1860, 66·4; for 1859, 65·6 per cent. The proportion of males convicted to the total number of males proceeded against, viz. 69·8 per cent., shows an increase of 0·1 per cent. as compared with the preceding year. In the proportion of females convicted to the total number of females proceeded against, viz. 56·9 per cent., there is an increase of 2·0 per cent., a difference of 12·9 per cent. in the proportionate numbers remaining in favour of the females; in preceding years this difference has been nearly 15 per cent.

Punishments adjudged.

The penalties imposed upon those convicted, stated under the same classification as in preceding years, were as follows :—

Imprisoned above 6 months	99
" 6 months and above 3 months	2,875
" 3 months and above 2 months	8,277
" 2 months and above 1 month	11,832
" 1 month and above 14 days	23,435
" 14 days and under	27,762
In reformatory schools	978
In industrial schools	228
Total committed		75,486
Fined		171,981
Whipped		388
Ordered to find sureties or to enter into recognizance		11,077
Delivered up to the Army or Navy		1,830
Other punishments		22,879
Total convicted		283,641

The numbers committed were in the proportion of 26·6 per cent., to the total number convicted. This proportion in 1852 was 26·3 per cent., and has shown a continued tendency to increase; in 1861 it was 23·4 per cent.; in 1860, 20·8 per cent. More than one-third (36·8 per cent.) of the committals, however, exclusive of those sent to Reformatories and Industrial Schools, were for the shorter periods of fourteen days and under. The numbers sent to Industrial Schools are distinguished, for the first time, in the Returns of 1863 from those sent to Reformatories. These numbers together exceed by 43 the number shown in the Returns for 1862 as sent to Reformatories, and are less by 44 than the number for 1861.

Offences determined, (Table, p. 25.)

The number of persons proceeded against for the principal offences summarily dealt with by the justices is shown as follows for 1863, under the same classification of offences as for preceding years.

POLICE AND CONSTABULARY.

Stealing and attempts to steal.

Under the head of stealing and attempts to steal, the total number shows a decrease of 1,109, or 2·4 per cent. as compared with the number for the preceding year. The numbers for 1863 under each class of offence were:—

Larceny, by offenders under 16 years (Juvenile Offenders Acts)	7,515
Larceny under the value of 5*s.* (Criminal Justice Act)	14,403
Larceny above the value of 5*s.* on pleading guilty	5,102
Attempting larceny, or larceny from the person	13,537
Dogs, birds, beasts, &c.	750
Fruit or vegetable productions	3,633
Trees, shrubs, &c.	845
		45,785

Of the foregoing offences the first has been subject to summary jurisdiction since 1847, the three following since 1855, and the three last since 1827.

The number of appeals to the Courts of Quarter Sessions against the decisions of Justices on summary proceedings as shown in Table 10, was 98, of which 47 were in cases of bastardy orders. With reference to the latter, in 27 of the cases the decisions were affirmed, and in 20 they were quashed. Omitting these, in the remaining 51 cases the convictions were affirmed in 24, and in 27 they were quashed.

CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS.

CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS, 1863.

The number of persons for trial in 1863 shows an increase of 817, or upwards of 4 per cent., upon the number for 1862. For three years an increase in the commitments has continued, but in a diminishing ratio. The aggregate increase for those years amounts to 4,819. For the three preceding years there was a continued decrease, the aggregate amounting to 4,270. The increase in the years 1863–62–61, therefore exceeds the decrease in the years 1860–59–58, by 549, by which number the total for 1863 exceeds the total for 1857, the numbers for trial having, previous to 1863, been higher in 1857 than in any year since the decrease which followed the operation of the Criminal Justice Act, commencing with 1856.

The proportion of the commitments to the estimated population which for 1857 was 1 to 950, is for 1863 about 1 to 987; the increase in the commitments in 1863 as compared with 1857 is therefore proportionately less than the increase in the population. The proportion of the commitments to the estimated population in 1862 was 1 to 1,016.

The numbers for trial have been as follows for each of the last 20 years:

1863	20,818	1858	17,855	1853	27,057	1848	30,349
1862	20,001	1857	20,269	1852	27,510	1847	28,833
1861	18,326	1856	19,437	1851	27,960	1846	25,107
1860	15,999	1855	25,972	1850	26,813	1845	24,303
1859	16,674	1854	29,359	1849	27,816	1844	26,542

The increase in the proportion of those acquitted and discharged to the total number for trial, which has been remarked in each of the last four years has not continued in 1863, this proportion being for the latter year 23·5 per cent. nearly, against 23·3 per cent. in the preceding year; for 1861 it was 24·1 per cent.; for 1860, 24·4 per cent.; for 1859, 25·0 per cent.; for 1858, 25·5 per cent. The proportion of those found not guilty on trial also is slightly higher, being 18·9 per cent. in 1863, against 18·6 per cent in 1862; for 1861 it was 18·7 per cent.; in 1860, 19·1 per cent.; in 1859, 19·6 per cent. The number not prosecuted is in the proportion of 0·2 per cent. to the total committed. Under no bills found, the number is in the proportion of 4·7 per cent. to the total committed.

The sentences to penal servitude were less numerous in 1863 than in 1862 by 96; the sentences to imprisonment were more numerous by 547. The former were in 1863 in the proportion of 19·4 per cent. to the total convictions; the latter in the proportion of 79·0 per cent. These proportions were in 1862, 20·7 per cent. and 78·0 per cent. respectively. It will be seen that as compared with 1862 there is a decrease in 1863 in the number of sentences to penal servitude for the longest periods. Their proportion to the total number of sentences to penal servitude is also less in 1863, viz. for life, 0·65; for above 15 years, 1·0; for 15 years and above 10, 2·6 per cent. In 1862 these proportions were respectively 0·78, 1·1, and 2·7 per cent. To the number of sentences to penal servitude for life may be added the capital sentences commuted, in each year, viz. 11 in 1862 and 7 in 1863, the higher number and the higher proportion of those condemed to penal servitude for life in 1862 being thus increased.

Capital convictions.

The capital convictions, now confined to the crime of murder, were equal in the two years 1862 and 1863; in the former year, however, one of the convictions was for an attempt to murder, the crime having been committed previously to the statute of 1861 having come into operation. The convictions for murder in 1863, therefore, exceeded by one the number in 1862. Their proportion to the total convictions was however slightly lower in 1863 than in 1862, viz. 0·183 in the former year, 0·188 in the latter.

The following Table shows the number of capital convictions in each of the last 10 years, and the crimes which up to 1862 were subject to capital sentence.

Criminal Appeals, (Table, p. 55.)

Under the statute 11th & 12th Vict. c. 78., the Court of Criminal Appeal was constituted. This court is composed of five judges of the Superior Courts, one of whom is required to be one of the chief justices, and is empowered to hear all questions of law arising on convictions in the Criminal Courts, and to revise, affirm, or amend the judgments. For the decision of this Court 16 cases were reserved in 1863, in seven of which the convictions were reversed. The following abstract shows the offences, the Courts which certified the cases for reconsideration, and the judgment of the Court in each case.

Costs of Prosecutions, (Table, p. 55.)

An account is given in the usual form of the sums paid by Her Majesty's Treasury for criminal prosecutions at the assizes and sessions, and for proceedings under the Criminal Justice Act and the Juvenile Offenders Acts, with the number of prosecutions, and amount of costs under each head, for the year ended 31st December 1862. This return is now given for the year complete, but for the reasons which have been stated on former occasions it is not found possible to give the information which it affords for the period corresponding with the other portion of the Statistics, and it will continue a year in arrear. The following are the totals for 1862. The number of prosecutions, and the costs at assizes, and at sessions, and under the Criminal Justice Act, and under the Juvenile Offenders Act, are given in detail in the Table for each county and for each borough within the county.

The total costs for 1862, as shown above, prove an increase, as compared with the amounts for the preceding year, of 16,255*l.* 14*s.* 4*d.*, or upwards of 12 per cent., on indictments, and of 1,437*l.* 10*s.* 5*d*, or nearly 10*l.* per cent., on summary proceedings. The number of cases on indictment, however, exceeded the number in 1861 by 1,801, and in the average costs in each case there was an increase of 2*s.* 8*d.* only in 1862; with regard to summary proceedings, the increase in the average amount of costs for each case was 3*d.*

Government Prosecutions.

Besides the expenses paid by the Government for criminal prosecutions as shown above, there are in each year the Mint cases and certain cases prosecuted on indictment by the Solicitor to the Treasury. The returns of these prosecutions are for the year 1863, and show the number of Mint cases prosecuted and concluded within the year to have been 407, and the total costs paid by the Treasury in such cases 3,677*l.* 17*s.* 8*d.*; and the number of criminal cases prosecuted on indictment by or under the directions of the Solicitor to the Treasury and brought to a conclusion within the year to have been 39, and the total costs 959*l.* 12*s.* 8*d.* In the preceding year the number of Mint cases was 396; the other criminal cases were 38.

PRISONS.

PRISONS, &c.

Under the head of Prisons will be found returns for 1863, as given for former years, from the county, liberty, and borough prisons, under the control of the local authorities; from the Government convict prisons; and from the reformatories and industrial schools managed under special Acts of Parliament; with Returns relating to criminal lunatics. All these Returns are made for the year ended the 29th September.

Local Prisons.

The local prisons number 146, the Queen's Prison in Southwark, which was included in the number for 1862, being now omitted, having ceased to exist.

Commitments, (Table, p. 61.)

The following were the total commitments of each class, distinguishing the sexes, with the proportion per cent. of the total of each class to the whole.

Increase.

The increase in the total commitments which took place in each of the years 1861 and 1862 has continued, though to a less extent, in 1863. The increase in each of the years 1861 and 1862 amounted respectively to 12,956 or 11 per cent., and 12,504 or 8·8 per cent. upon the number for each preceding year. The increase in the number for 1863 amounts to 2,777, or 1·9 per cent., as compared with the number for 1862. Comparing the numbers for 1860 and 1863, the increase in the latter year amounts to 28,237, or 24·2 per cent. As compared with 1862, the increase in 1863 extends to the commitments for trial, &c., the summary commitments, and the commitments on remand; in the commitments for want of sureties, for debt and on civil process, and for naval and military offences, there is a decrease under each head.

The following table affords the means of comparing the numbers under each class of commitment for each of the last five years, and for each period of five years ending respectively with 1863, and 1858, the total being higher for 1863 than for any of the four preceding years, and also than the average of the five years ending with 1858.

PRISONS.

Further, the comparative state of the commitments, (exclusive of debtors and naval and military prisoners), and of the total commitments, with the daily average for each year, at intervals of five years, from 1863, will be seen from the following.

	Commitments exclusive of Debtors, &c.	Total Commitments.	Daily average.
1863	129,527	144,519	18,806
1858	118,162	139,457	18,770
1853	109,083	119,116	16,691

1843	112,752	127,457	17,218

Recommittals, (Table, p. 61.)

For each of the years 1862 and 1861, a large increase was shown in the number of recommitted prisoners. In 1863, a still further increase appears, amounting however, only to 160; nor is this increase altogether in proportion to the increase in the commitments, the proportion per cent. of recommitted prisoners to the total commitments, being less by 0·5 per cent. for 1863 than for 1862.

The proportion of the recommitted males to the total number of males committed, is 27·7 per cent. varying only by 0·3 per cent. from the number for the preceding year; the proportion of the recommitted females to the total females committed is 41·8 per cent., being lower by 3·0 per cent. than the proportionate number in the preceding year:—

Previous Commitments.	Males.	Females.	Total.	Proportion per Cent. to Total Committals.
Once	14,388	4,428	18,816	13·0
Twice	5,929	2,316	8,245	5·7
Thrice	3,221	1,418	4,639	3·2
Four times	2,019	1,064	3,083	2·1
Five times	1,201	743	1,944	1·4
Seven times and above five	1,506	915	2,421	1·7
Ten times and above seven	942	1,001	1,943	1·4
Above ten times	1,173	2,773	3,946	2·7
Total	30,379	14,658	45,037	31·2

Excluding the debtors and the naval and military prisoners, and those remanded and discharged, the proportion borne to the remainder by the total number of recommitments is 37·6 per cent. for 1863; for 1862, this proportion was 38·6. In 1861, it was 38·7 per cent.; in 1860, 39·4; in 1859, 40·3 per cent.

Ages of those committed, (Table, p. 64.)

The following are the classified ages of the total number committed, exclusive of the debtors and naval and military prisoners:—

Ages.	Males.	Females.	Total.	Proportion per Cent.
Under 12 years	1,359	190	1,549	1·2
12 years and under 16	5,849	1,061	6,910	5·3

Age not ascertained	203	26	229	0·2
Total	95,040	34,487	129,527	100·0

In the proportionate numbers of the different ages, there is little variation from year to year.

PRISONS.

The following are the numbers of the juvenile classes in each year since 1856 inclusive, showing a decrease of nearly one-third. In their proportion to the total commitments, the decrease has been continuous, having been in 1863, 6·5 per cent.; in 1862, 6·6; in 1861, 7·8; in 1860, 8·0; in 1859, 8·3; in 1858, 8·7; in 1857, 10·0; in 1856, 12·3.

Birth-place of those committed, (Table, p. 64.)

The proportion of those born in each country to the total commitments as shown in the following Table, scarcely varies from year to year. As compared with 1862, there is an increase of 0·5 per cent. in 1863 in the proportionate number of Irish. With regard to English and Scotch, there is a decrease of 0·1 per cent. in the proportionate number of each.

State of Instruction, (Table, p. 67.)

The Tables show the state of Instruction of the prisoners committed during the year, exclusive of Debtors and Naval and Military prisoners. As compared with the preceding year, the proportion per cent. of the numbers of each degree of instruction to the whole varies only by a trifling fraction; in those of superior instruction the proportion is the same. The proportion of the males who could neither read nor write is 33·3 per cent. of the males: the proportion of the females 39·1 per cent. of the females. These proportions were 33·4 per cent. and 39·7 per cent. respectively in the preceding year. Of the males 61·4 per cent. could read or read and write imperfectly; 4·2 per cent. could read and write well; under 0·3 per cent. were of superior instruction; in the preceding year these proportions were respectively 60·9, and 4·6 per cent. with regard to the two first; with regard to the third the proportions were as nearly as possible the same. Of the females 58·4 per cent. could read or read and write imperfectly; 1·6 per cent. could read and write well; 0·06 per cent. were of superior instruction. These proportions in the preceding year were 57·9, 1·6, and 0·07 per cent. respectively.

The following is a summary of the Table for 1863, with the proportion per cent. of the Total under each degree of instruction to the whole number :—

Prisons.

Occupations, (Table, p. 67.)

The occupations of the persons committed are shown under the following classification, in the same Table with the degrees of instruction. Notwithstanding that the total number in 1863 (debtors and naval and military prisoners being omitted) exceeds the total number for the preceding year by 4,052, or 3·2 per cent., the variation between the two years in the proportion of the numbers of each class to the total number is less than 1 per cent. in every class.

The number of prisoners whose occupations were not ascertained, was less in 1863 by 324 than the number in 1862, and their proportion per cent. to the total was less by 0·4 per cent.

The three first Tables, of which a summary has now been given, relate to the number, age, sex, and condition of the prisoners committed during the year, their places of birth, and the number so far as known of their previous commitments; the following Tables relate to the disposal of the numbers under confinement during the year; the capacity and state of the prisons; the expenses; and the funds upon which the costs are charged.

Numbers in prison during the year, (Table, p. 70.)

The numbers under detention in the local prisons, and the removals between those Prisons, during the year ended 29 September 1863, were as follows:—

			Males.	Females.	Total.
Number in Prison at the commencement of the year:	Males.	Females.
Criminals	13,698	3,922
Debtors, &c.	602	21
			14,300	3,943	18,243
Committed during the year			109,441	35,078	144,519
Removed between Local Prisons during the year			3,314	419	3,733

Disposal of the Prisoners.

The disposal of the prisoners in custody during the year, and the number remaining in custody at the close of the year ended the 29th September 1863, were as follows:

	Males.	Females.	TOTAL.
Removed from the Local Prisons:
To Government prisons	2,586	511	3,097
To County and Borough prisons	3,539	868	4,407

On ticket-of-leave	2	1	3
On termination of sentence or commitment	104,518	33,446	137,964
Bailed (those only who were released after committal)	497	93	590
Escaped	10	0	10
Committed suicide	14	1	15
Died	169	49	218
Executed	23	1	24
Total	112,404	35,191	147,595
Remaining in Prison at the end of the year:
Criminals	14,093	4,224	18,317
Debtors	558	25	583

The total number remaining in prison at the end of the year, i.e. on 29 September 1863, shows an increase of 657, or 3·6 per cent., as compared with the number at the end of the preceding 12 months. This follows an increase in 1862, amounting to 1,005, or 5·8 per cent. upon the number remaining in custody on the 29 September, 1861. As compared with the number in 1860, the increase in 1863 amounts to 3,335, or 21·4 per cent.

Capacity of the Prisons, (Table, p. 73.)

The Returns for the past year show an increase in the aggregate amount of accommodation in the prisons, since the preceding year, equal to the reception of 166 prisoners.

The greatest number of prisoners in custody at one time in 1863 exceeded the greatest number in 1862 by 1,095, or 4·9 per cent. The daily average was higher by 773, or 4·3 per cent.

The following are the numbers for 1863:—

	Males.	Females.	TOTAL.
Prisons constructed to contain	21,303	6,118	27,421
Greatest number of prisoners confined at one time	18,325	4,968	23,293
		TOTAL of both sexes.
Daily average of prisoners in the year		18,806

It will be seen that the prisons afforded accommodation in the aggregate for 4,128 prisoners—2,978 males, and 1,150 females—more than the greatest number in custody at one time, while the daily average was little more than two-thirds (68·5 per cent.) of the number the prisons are capable of receiving. An examination of Table 5 however will show that in 41 of the prisons the greatest number at one time exceeded, to a greater or less extent, the number for which the prisons are constructed; in eight of the cases with regard to both sexes; in 20 with regard to males only; and in 13 with regard to females only; and further, that in Chester City Gaol, Salford County Gaol and House of Correction, Cold Bath Fields County House of Correction, and Portsmouth and Scarborough Borough Prisons, not only the greatest number at one time, but the daily average, exceeded the numbers for which the prisons are constructed.

Sanitary state of the prisons, (Table, p. 73.)

The number of deaths and the cases of sickness in each prison are shown in detail in Table 5. The following are the totals for all the prisons for the year ended 29th September 1863, in comparison with the average of the numbers for each of the two preceding periods of five years.

PRISONS.

Cases of Sickness and Death.	1863.			Average of 5 Years.
	Males.	Females.	Total.	1862–58.	1857–53.
Deaths	169	49	218	181	204
Cases of sickness:
Infirmary cases	3,175	1,145	4,320	4,175	4,577
Slight indisposition	45,210	12,495	57,705	46,488	40,034
Insanity	105	28	133	144	126
	Males and Females.
Greatest number of sick at one time	1,864			1,857	2,098

As compared with 1862 there is an increase of 29 in the number of deaths—20 males, and 9 females. The infirmary cases also show an increase of 179. In the cases of slight indisposition there is a decrease of 808. There is also a decrease of 26 in the cases of insanity. The deaths were in the proportion of 1 in 746·6 of the number of prisoners under detention during the year. This proportion in 1862 was 1 in 841·1; in 1861 it was 1 in 822·7. The infirmary cases were 1 for every 37·6 of the prisoners; in each of the years 1861 and 1862 they were 1 for 38·3; in 1860, 1 for 33·9. The cases of slight indisposition were 1 for every 2·8 of the prisoners; in 1862 they were 1 for every 2·7; in 1861, 1 for 3·1. The cases of insanity were 1 in 1,223·7; in 1862 they were 1 in 999.8; in 1861, 1 in 1,167·8; in 1860, 1 in 896·9.

Prison Punishments, (Table, p. 73.)

The number of punishments for offences committed in prison in the year ended the 29th September 1863, shows an increase of 9,433 or upwards of 22·6 per cent. upon the number in 1862, following an increase of 3,689, or 9·7 per cent., in the latter year as compared with 1861. The total number gives one punishment for every 3·1 of the prisoners; this proportion in each of the three preceding years was 1 to 3·8 of the prisoners. The number of punishments of each description in 1863 is shown in the following summary:—

	Males.	Females.	TOTAL.
Whipping	139	—	139
Irons or handcuffs	81	24	105
Solitary or dark cells	12,327	1,669	13,996
Stoppage of diet	30,579	4,382	34,961
Other punishments	1,751	58	1,809
Total	44,877	6,133	51,010

The increase extends to each of the four descriptions of punishment named, and amounts, as compared with 1862, to 56, or 67·4 per cent., in the cases of whipping; in the cases of irons or handcuffs to 11·6 per cent.; in the cases of solitary or dark cells to 2,386, or 20·5 per cent.; and in the cases of stoppage of diet to 7,644, or 27·9 per cent.

The punishments which can be inflicted by the keepers of prisons are restricted to confinement in a solitary or dark cell with bread and water, for a term not exceeding three days. The severer punishments can only be inflicted after inquiry on oath by the visiting justices.

The cases of whipping in 1863 were 1 to 890·2 of the male prisoners. This proportion in 1862 was 1 to 1,460·4; in 1861, 1 to 1,976·5. The cases of irons or handcuffs were 1 to 1,550·1 of the total number of prisoners; in 1862 these punishments were 1 to 1,690·2 of the prisoners; in 1861 they were 1 to 2,262·5. In 1863 they were 1 to 1,527·6 among the males; 1 to 1,625·9 among the females; in 1862 they were 1 to 1,574·2 among the males; 1 to 2,221·3 among the females; in 1861, 1 to 2,470·6 among the males; and 1 to 1,804·7 among the females. It must be recollected, however, as has been formerly stated, that while frequent punishments are inflicted on the same prisoners, the greater proportion of the prisoners receive no punishment for offences committed in prison.

PRISONS.

Prison Establishments, (Table, p. 82.)

The number of prison officers of every class as shows in the Returns for 1863 is as follows,

Rank of Officers.	Males.	Females.	TOTAL.
Governor and Deputy Governor - -	175	2	177
Chaplain - - - - -	139	—	139
Surgeon - - - - -	141	—	141
Clerks and schoolmasters, &c. -	138	36	174

Under warders - - - -	758	282	990
Other subordinate officers - - -	299	23	322
Total - - - -	1,898	452	2,350

As compared with 1862, there is an increase of 46 in the total number, 39 in the male officers, and 7 in the females. The number of superior officers continues the same. The increase, with the exception of two in the class of clerks and schoolmasters, has been entirely in the under warders and other subordinate officers, a decrease of 8 appearing in the number of upper warders.

The total number gives one officer to 8 of the daily average number of prisoners during the year. This proportion was in 1862, 1 to 7·7; in 1861 it was 1 to 7; in 1860, 1 to 6·5.

Costs of the Prisons, (Table, p. 76.)

The costs of the prisons are given under the usual heads, and in the total amount show an increase of 19,624*l.* 10*s.* 11*d.*, or 3*l.* 14*s.* 4*d.* per cent. upon the total amount in 1862, being also higher than the average of the three years preceding 1862 by 24,260*l.* 16*s.* 6*d.*, or 4*l.* 12*s.* 9*d.* per cent. As compared with 1862, there is an increase of 15,888*l.*, or upwards of 17 per cent. in the extraordinary charges for Buildings and Establishment charges, and of 3,552*l.*, or nearly 4 per cent. in the ordinary annual charges. Under the head of officers also there is an increase of 3,522*l.* Under prisoners, on the other hand, there is a decrease of 3,338*l.*, chiefly in the items of diet, sick allowances, and medicines, which taken together are less than the account in 1862 by 5,009*l.* Each of the items of clothing, &c., and earnings, &c., shows a slight increase.

The following are the totals under each head for 1863:—

Average per prisoner.

The yearly average charge per prisoner under each division of cost, was as follows:—

Extraordinary charges	5	14	8
Ordinary annual charges	5	5	11

The above average of 23*l.* 7*s.* 5*d.* is less by 15*s.* 11*d.* than the average in 1862, the average charge per prisoner having been lower in the latter year than in any of the three preceding years. Between this amount, which is the average charge for the whole of the County and Borough prisons, calculated on the total daily average number of prisoners, and the highest and lowest averages for any of the prisons, there is a wide difference. The highest average charge will be found at Oakham County Gaol and House of Correction, viz. 101*l.* 16*s.* 2*d.*, with a daily average number of prisoners of 8. The lowest average is for Salford County House of Correction, viz. 15*l.* 1*s.* 0*d.*, with a daily average number of prisoners of 571. At Appleby County Gaol the average charge per prisoner is 64*l.* 1*s.* 5*d.*, with a daily average number of prisoners of 7. At Alnwick County Gaol and House of Correction it is 62*l.* 9*s.* 9*d.*, with a daily average of 2 prisoners. At Lincoln County Gaol it is 58*l.* 13*s.* 3*d.*, with a daily average of 26 prisoners. At Colchester Borough Gaol it is 58*l.* 7*s.* 3*d.*, with a daily average of 3 prisoners. For Grantham Borough Gaol and House of Correction it is 57*l.* 5*s.* 7*d.*, with a daily average of 4 prisoners. On the other hand, for the Town Gaol and House of Correction at Hull the average charge was 15*l.* 14*s.* 2*d.*, with a daily average of 160 prisoners. At Liverpool Borough Gaol it was 16*l.* 1*s.* 10*d.*, with a daily average of 947 prisoners. At Durham County Gaol and House of Correction it was 16*l.* 2*s.* 4*d.*, with a daily average of 386.

The following are the comparative costs for the whole of the prisons for each of the last five years:—

Convict Prisons, (Table, pp. 88–89.)

The Chairman of the Directors of Convict Prisons has furnished returns for the year ended the 29th September 1863, in the same form as the returns for former years with regard to the 10 convict prisons, and also in respect of convicts under detention at Leicester, Wakefield, and Leeds. During the year, female convicts have been sent to Parkhurst, which prison had hitherto been used exclusively for the reformatory discipline of juvenile male offenders under sentence of penal servitude or imprisonment. Convicts of these latter classes still remain there as heretofore, but arrangements are in progress for their removal to Dartmoor, it being intended that Parkhurst shall be given up entirely for females. With the exception of females being sent to Parkhurst, the purposes to which the 10 convict prisons have been appropriated during the year are the same as for the preceding year, as may be seen upon reference to the tables. The next year's returns will probably show further change. At Leicester and Wakefield convicts have been imprisoned, as in former years, in separate confinement under the first stage of discipline, and in addition to these a further number will be found at Leeds. To Perth also a few English convicts have been sent, contracts having been entered into by the Government for their reception at both the last-mentioned places. The want of room in the Government Prisons for the increased number of convicts to be provided for, renders necessary a still further extension of the system of renting accommodation in local gaols, as will no doubt appear in the returns for next year.

To the Government Prison at Perth it is intended that all convicts sentenced in Scotland to penal servitude shall be removed from the Scotch local prisons, there to undergo the first stage of discipline in separate confinement. For reformatory discipline the Scotch male convicts are removed to the public works prisons in England, and are not distinguished in the returns for those prisons from the convicts sentenced in England. Furthermore, convicts sentenced in Scotland have hitherto been received from the Scotch local prisons for separate confinement at Wakefield, and are included in the returns for that prison along with the English convicts confined there. Naval and military prisoners also are received in the convict prisons. It is therefore apparent that the numbers shown in the English convict prison returns cannot correspond with the numbers sentenced in England to penal servitude; and that, while the expenses of the English convict prisons are fully stated in the returns, those expenses are not incurred entirely for convicts sentenced in England.

For the past year the number of Scotch convicts at Wakefield and the number of English convicts sent to Perth differed only by three. In the tables (these numbers being so nearly balanced) the former are included in the numbers shown in the return for Wakefield, and no return is given of the latter. When the necessary arrangements have been completed this interchange of English and Scotch convicts is intended to be discontinued. All the Scotch convicts under the first stage of discipline, and no convicts from England, will then be sent to Perth.

The number of convicts in all the English prisons for the year, as shown in the tables, and their disposal, are as follows:—

Remaining in prison at the end of the year	6,743	1,275	8,018
Total daily average in the year	6,696	1,359	8,055

From the foregoing statement it will be seen that both in the number remaining in prison at the end of the year and in the total daily average there is an increase above the number undergoing sentence at the commencement of the year. This increase, however, is not attributable to a greater number of convicts than usual having been received in the prisons during the year, but to a smaller proportionate number having been "disposed of." The number received during the year was less than the number received for the preceding year, as regards the males (in the number of females there was an increase of three), the total decrease being 657, or 16·1 per cent. The number disposed of during the year was less both as regards the males and the females, with regard to the former by 19·0 per cent., with regard to the latter by 8·4 per cent. The decrease in the total number is 693, or 17·8 per cent. Although the number sent to Western Australia exceeded by 261 the number sent in the preceding year, yet fewer convicts having been sent to Gibraltar in 1863, the total number sent abroad in the latter year was less than the number in the preceding year by 186, or 16·5 per cent. It is, however, in the number discharged on tickets of leave that the chief difference is found on a comparison of the two years, the number having been less in 1863, with regard to the males by 547, and with regard to the females by 69. The decrease in the total number is equal to 26·0 per cent. The total number discharged on termination of their sentences were to the total number in custody in the year, in the proportion of 2·6 per cent.; the total number discharged on tickets of leave were to the total number in custody during the year in the proportion of 14·8 per cent. These proportions in the preceding year were respectively 2·0 and 20·4 per cent. The numbers remaining in prison at the end of the year show an increase, on comparison with the numbers remaining at the close of the preceding year, of 185 in the males, and of 57 in the females, the total increase being 3·1 per cent. on the number remaining at the close of the year in 1862.

The state of the different prisons during the year is shown in the following table :— Convict Prisons.

Deaths and Cases of Sickness.

The number of deaths appears to have been unusually high, the total number having been 110, 87 among the males and 23 among the females, or in the proportion of one male in every 110 of the males, and of one female in every 71 of the females. In the preceding year the numbers were one male in every 154 of the males; one female in every 324 of the females. In 1861 the proportion among the females was one in 105. Among the males the deaths occurred chiefly in the invalid establishments at Dartmoor and Woking, few cases comparatively appearing in any of the other prisons. Amongst the females the cases were most numerous at Brixton. The cases of insanity also were more numerous and higher in proportion to the number of convicts than in preceding years.

The cases of sickness appear to have been about the average number in proportion to the number of convicts.

Prison Punishments.

A large increase appears in the number of punishments of every description inflicted for prison offences, 62 cases of corporal punishment against 26 in the preceding year; 1,421 cases of confinement in solitary or dark cells against 1,297; 4,281 stoppages of diet against 2,512; and 3,556 other punishments against 2,957 in 1862.

Establishments of the Prisons.

The returns show an addition of 95 to the total number of persons on the establishments of the different prisons since the preceding year. The increase is chiefly in the subordinate officers, and comprises 44 males and 51 females.

The following are the numbers for the whole of the prisons as shown in the return for 1863 :—

	Males.	Females.	Total.
Governors and deputy governors	19	6	25
Chaplains and assistant chaplains	19	—	19

Costs of each Prison.

The actual prison expenses for the year, the details of which for each prison are given in the table at p. 89, exclusive of the gratuities and allowances paid to convicts on their discharge, were as follows :—

Comparing the gross total expenses of the ten convict prisons for the years ending 29th September 1862 and 1863 respectively, there is an increase in the amount for the latter year of 2,880*l.* 12*s.* 6*d.* The total expense of these prisons for the former year was however less by 4,111*l.* 2*s.* 6*d.* than the amount for the year preceding it. In the total expenditure, including the expenses at Wakefield, Leicester, and Leeds, as shown in the returns for 1863, there is an increase of 5,065*l.* 8*s.* 8*d.* above the amount shown in the returns for 1862. This increase is owing to the greater daily average number of prisoners for 1863, as is evident from the gross annual charge per prison being less for 1863 than for the preceding year. The difference in the charges for the two years amounts to 1*l.* 9*s.* 6*d.*

The actual receipts for rent of officers' quarters, sale of old stores, &c., for the ten convict prisons amounted to 6,044*l.* 1*s.* 2*d.* to which may be added 8,081*l.* 16*s.* 3*d.*, the value of the productive labour actually paid over to the Exchequer, making together 14,125*l.* 17*s.* 5*d.*, which, deducted from the gross expenditure, reduces the amount to 239,936*l.* 13*s.* 6*d.* Deducting further the sums shown in the returns from Wakefield and Leicester (no account is given for Leeds,) viz. 186*l.* 5*s.* 1*d.* for rent, &c., and 974*l.* 15*s.* 1*d.* for productive labour, there remains 238,775*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.* as the net total expense for convicts, with an average of 29*l.* 12*s.* 10*d.* per convict. This calculation, it should also be remembered, is exclusive of the value of the convict labour applied to public works at Chatham, Portland, and Portsmouth to the construction of the Convict Lunatic Prison at Broadmoor, &c.

REFORMATORY SCHOOLS, (Table, pp. 90-91.)

The number of reformatory schools certified by the Secretary of State for the reception of juvenile offenders pursuant to the statutes of the 17th & 18th Vict. c. 86., and 19th & 20th Vict. c. 109., as shown in the tables for the year ending 29th September 1863 is 51, being one less than the number for the preceding year, owing to the discontinuance of the Hammersmith Girls Catholic Reformatory.

Offenders under 16 years of age, convicted either upon indictment or summarily before justices, may, after a short term of previous imprisonment, be sent to these schools for not less than two years or more than five years, for teaching, discipline, and industrial training.

The total number of offenders sent to the reformatories during the past year shows a decrease of 14·5 per cent as compared with the number for the preceding year, following a decrease in the same proportion in 1862 as compared with 1861. The decrease appears with regard both to the males and females. The total number in 1863 is less also, it will be seen, than the total for either of the years 1860, 1859, or 1857.

REFORMATORY SCHOOLS.

The following are the numbers of certified schools and of the offenders committed to them for each year, since the passing of the first Act in 1854,

	1863.	1862.	1861.	1860.	1859.	1858.	1857.	1856.	1855.	1854.

Terms of Detention.

The terms of detention of the offenders committed in 1863 were as follows:—

Of the total number, 211 or 23·2 per cent. were committed after conviction on indictment; 699 or 76·8 per cent. on summary conviction; 88·3 per cent. of the commitments were for larcenies and attempts to steal; 3·7 per cent. were for house-breaking or shop-breaking; the remainder for various offences.

State of the Reformatories.

The state of the reformatories in 1863 was as follows:—

The number discharged by order of the Secretary of State shows a decrease of 66 or 11·0 per cent., as compared with the number for the preceding year. In the number of those discharged on completion of their term there is an increase of eight. The total number discharged within the year is less by seven only than the number committed. In 1862, the proportion borne by the number discharged to the number committed within the year, was 90·2 per cent.; in 1861 this proportion 64·2 per cent.; in 1860, 51·9 per cent.; in 1859, 47·8 per cent. The deaths in 1863 were fewer by four than in 1862. In the number remaining in custody at the close of the year there is a decrease of 27, as compared with the number at the close of the preceding year.

Previous commitments.

The classified numbers of the previous commitments to prison of the offenders committed to the reformatories in 1863 were—

REFORMATORY SCHOOLS.

	Males.	Females.	TOTAL.

Twice	108	6	114

Five times	4	—	4
Seven times and above five times	—	—	—
Ten times and above seven times	1	—	1

It appears from the foregoing statement that 47·8 per cent. of the total number committed to reformatories during the year had been in prison previously to the conviction on which they were sent to the reformatories, leaving 52·2 per cent. as the proportion of those who were sent to reformatories on their first conviction. These proportions were in 1862, 48·2 per cent. who had been previously committed to prison, 51·8 per cent. committed to reformatories on their first conviction; in 1861, 40·8 per cent. and 59·2 per cent.; in 1860, 49·1 and 50·9 per cent. respectively.

Ages and Instruction.

The ages of those committed in 1863 and their state of instruction when received in the reformatories were as follows:—

	Aged 10 and under.	11.	12.	13.	14.	15.	16.
Neither read nor write:

Of the males, 45·9 per cent. could neither read nor write; 46.7 per cent. could read or read and write imperfectly; 5·4 per cent. could read and write well; and one individual was of superior instruction. Of the females 50·5 per cent. could neither read nor write; 43·7 per cent. could read or read and write imperfectly; and 6·2 per cent. could read and write well.

Costs for 1863.

The total expenses incurred for this class of offenders, which are defrayed from the Public Revenues, amounted for the year ended the 29th of September 1863, to 51,694*l.* 19*s.* 7*d.*, being, as compared with the preceding year, a decrease of 3,150*l.* 0*s.* 6*d.* The amount recovered from the parents in diminution of this charge was, for 1863, 2,243*l.* 9*s.* 2*d.*; for the preceding year the sum of 2,404*l.* was recovered.

Middlesex Industrial School, (Table, p. 92.)

For male offenders in the county of Middlesex, above seven and under fourteen years of age, whether convicted on indictment or summarily before the Justices, the Industrial School at Feltham is provided under the Local Act of the 17th & 18th Vict. c. 169. In this school the juvenile offenders may be detained under sentence for not less than one year or more than three years, without previous commitment to prison. The Return for this school, which is for the same period as the Returns for the prisons and reformatory schools, shows that the number under detention in the school on the 30th September 1862 was 563; that during the year ended the 29th September 1863, 186 were committed, and one re-admitted after absconding. Of the 750 thus shown to have been under detention during the year, one was discharged by order of the Secretary of State; 187 were discharged on completion of their respective terms of sentence; four absconded and were not retaken; three were committed to prison for offences committed in the school; and one died, making together 196 disposed of during the year, and leaving 554 under detention at its close. In the previous year the number of commitments was 208, showing a decrease in 1863 of 22, or in the proportion of 11·8 per cent. The decrease in the number remaining at the close of the year 1863, as compared with the number at the close of the preceding year, was nine, or in the proportion of 1·6 per cent.

MIDDLESEX INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL.

Of the number committed during the year, 91·4 per cent. were convicted summarily; 8·6 per cent. on indictment; 94·6 per cent. were committed for three years or above two; 5·4 per cent. only, for two years or under. Of 67, or 36 per cent., of the boys committed during the year, one parent was dead; of 17, or 9·1 per cent., both were dead; seven were deserted by one of their parents; three were otherwise uncontrolled by one of their parents; one, by both; 77, or 41·4 per cent., were under the control of one of their parents; 91, or 48·9 per cent., of both. 102, or 54·8 per cent. of those committed, could neither read nor write; 80, or 43 per cent., could read or read and write imperfectly; and four only could read and write well. 138, or 74·2 per cent., had never previously been committed to any prison; 36, or 19·3 per cent., had been once previously committed; seven had been twice; and five, three times previously committed. Of those committed in the preceding year, 75 per cent. were sent to the school on their first conviction; 16·4 per cent. had been once previously committed to prison; ten had been twice, and five three times, and three four times previously committed to prison; 53·3 per cent. could neither read nor write; 43·3 per cent. could read or read and write imperfectly; seven, or 3·4 per cent., could read and write well.

Industrial Schools, (Table, p. 92.)

The names of 27 schools certified under the Industrial School Act of 1861, or the former Acts, in which children, committed by the magistrates, were under detention during the year ended 29th September 1863, will be found in the Table, being an increase of one above the number shown in the Returns for the preceding year. The commitments to these schools during the year amounted to 237 males and 71 females, making together 308; in the preceding year the number committed was 369,—247 males and 122 females,—showing a decrease of 10 in the number of males, and of 52 in the number of females committed in 1863. From the larger number, however, in custody at the commencement of the year, as compared with the number at the commencement of the preceding year, the number remaining under detention at the 29th September 1863 exceeded the number on the 29th September 1862 by 197,—159 males and 38 females.

During the year, 785 children, 562 males and 223 females, were under detention in the different schools. Of these 19 males and 10 females were discharged on suitable employment being found; one male on sufficient security being found; four males and four females were removed to reformatory schools; thirty males and seven females were discharged on completing their terms of detention; five males, on attaining the age of 15 years; two males and one female, by order of the Secretary of State; four females died, and seventeen males and four females absconded, and were not retaken; making a total of 108, 78 males and 30 females, removed from the schools during the year, and leaving 677, 484 males and 193 females, remaining under detention at its close.

The ages at the time of commitment of the total number under detention during the year, with the proportion per cent. of those of each age, distinguishing the sexes, to the whole number with regard to each sex, and of the whole number of each age, males and females together, to the total number, were as follows;—

The costs of the maintenance of the children as shown in the Returns (the amounts for four of the schools not being stated) were 8,147*l.* 5*s.* 11*d.* The amount recovered from parents was 153*l.* 5*s.* 4*d.* In the preceding year the costs, as shown in the Returns for that year, were 4,948*l.* 15*s.* 7*d.* The amount recovered from parents was 715*l.* 4*s.* 0*d.*

CRIMINAL LUNATICS, (Table, pp. 93 to 95.)

Returns have been furnished in the usual form with regard to the Criminal Lunatics under detention in the different lunatic asylums, hospitals, and licensed houses during the year ended 29th September 1863. Broadmoor Hospital, two metropolitan and one provincial licensed houses, have been added to the list, while one licensed house, which was included in the returns for the preceding year, has been discontinued, the whole number being thus increased by three, and amounting to 59.

The Returns from three of the asylums state that errors were made in the Returns furnished for 1862 with respect to the numbers remaining under detention at the close of that year, in consequence of which a difference of two will be found between the total number shewn in the Returns for 1863, as under detention at the commencement of the year, and the number shewn in the previous Returns, as remaining at the close of the year.

The numbers for 1863 and their disposal, are as follows ;—

	Males.	Females.	TOTAL.
Under detention at the commencement of the year -	671	194	865

The number committed during the year was less by 31, or 15 per cent., than the number committed in the preceding year. In the number of deaths there was an increase of ten in 1863 as compared with 1862. The number discharged on becoming sane was less by 27, or in the proportion of 58·4 per cent., in 1863 than in the preceding year. In 1862 fourteen were removed sane for trial or punishment. The number remaining under detention at the close of the year shows an increase of 56, or 6·5 per cent. upon the number remaining at the close of the preceding year.

CRIMINAL LUNATICS.

Compared with the number remaining under detention in 1856, the number remaining in 1863 shows an increase of 332, or 55·6 per cent.

Offences with which charged, (Table p. 95.)

The offences with which the lunatics under detention during the year were charged are fully shown in the table, 180, or 15·6 per cent. of the whole number being for murder; 112, or 9·7 per cent., for attempts to murder, stabbing, &c.; 282, or 24·5 per cent., for larcenies and petty thefts; 53, or 4·6 per cent., for arson or malicious burning; 55, or 4·8 per cent., under the vagrant laws; 77, or 6·7 per cent., for want of sureties.

Judgments under which detained.

The original judgments or orders under which the lunatics in custody in 1863 were detained, with the proportion per cent. which the numbers under each bear to the whole, were as follows:—

Periods of Detention.

The table shows also the periods for which those detained for each crime have been under detention, with the number under each period of detention.

The number under each period, and the proportion per cent. borne by each number to the whole, are as follows:—

	Number of Persons.	Proportion per cent. to whole number.

Lunatic Asylums. Costs, (Table, p. 94.)

In the total charges for the above Criminal Lunatics for the year, there is an increase of 1,686*l*, 16*s*. 0*d*., or almost 6 per cent., upon the total amount for the preceding year, corresponding with the increase in the number of lunatics under detention in 1863.

The following are the amounts chargeable to each of the different funds from which the costs are defrayed, with the total charge for the year, and the proportion per cent. which each amount bears to the total:—

	£	s.	d.
County Rates	4,419	8	11	14·8
Borough Rates or Funds	1,252	3	2	4·2
Parish Rates	5,934	16	9	19·8
Public Revenues	16,260	8	7	54·3
Private Funds	2,080	9	6	6·9
Total	29,947	6	11	100·0

As compared with the preceding year, the total amount chargeable to the county rate was less in 1863 by 48*l*. 13*s*. 8*d*.; in each of the other amounts there is an increase.

Costs per head.

The cost per head does not differ in any considerable degree from former years. In the Medway Union there is still a single case chargeable to the parish rates at 13*l*.

per annum. In the county asylums the average varies between 15*l.* 11*s.* 8*d.*, the lowest, in Dorsetshire, and 29*l.* 11*s.* 1*d.*, the highest, in Derbyshire; the average for the 37 county asylums is 23*l.* 5*s.*; in 1862 this average was 23*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.*; in 1861 it was 23*l.* 17*s.* 9*d.* At Bethlehem Hospital the total charge, payable from the public revenues, was 5,885*l.*, giving an average of 46*l.* 14*s.* 2*d.* for each lunatic; at Fisherton, the total charge being 11,114*l.* 19*s.* 7*d.*, of which 10,262*l.* 10*s.* 5*d.* is payable from the public revenue, the average is 30*l.* 14*s.* 1*d.* In certain of the licensed houses individual cases will be found where the costs, defrayed from private funds, amount respectively to 531*l.*, 480*l.*, 400*l.*, 200*l.*, 150*l.*, &c.

CONCLUSION.

On a brief review of the principal points adverted to in the foregoing report, it will be seen that, as compared with 1862, there was in 1863 an increase of upwards of 2 per cent. in the numbers of the police and constabulary force, and of nearly 4 per cent. in the total costs; a slight decrease in the number of the criminal classes at large and known to the police; a decrease of 2·6 per cent. in the number of houses of bad character reported by the police; a decrease of 2 per cent. in the number of indictable offences, with an increase of 4 per cent. in the number of persons apprehended for indictable offences; an increase of 3·1 per cent. in the number of persons summarily proceeded against before the justices, and of 2·9 per cent. in the number of summary convictions; and an increase of upwards of 10 per cent. in the number of coroners' inquests. The criminal proceedings show an increase, as compared with 1862, of 817, or upwards of 4 per cent., in the numbers for trial, and of 487, or 3·1 per cent., in the number of convictions. The capital sentences were equal in number in each year, with a decrease in 1863 of 96 in the number of sentences to penal servitude, and an increase of 547 in the sentences of imprisonment. The number of executions in 1863 exceeded by six the number in 1862. The Prison Returns show an increase of 2,777, or 1·9 per cent. in the total number of commitments to prison.

JUDICIAL STATISTICS.

PART II.

ENGLAND AND WALES.

COMMON LAW—EQUITY—CIVIL AND CANON LAW.

RETURNS FOR THE YEAR 1863,

Compiled by Order of Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department

COMPRISING

The Superior Courts of Common Law, the County Courts, and other Courts for the Recovery of Small Debts.

The Bankruptcy Courts.

The Courts of Equity, the Court of Probate, the Court of Divorce and Matrimonial Causes, the Admiralty Court, and the Ecclesiastical Courts.

The Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, and the Judicial Proceedings of the House of Lords.

Common Law Courts.

any record kept in the Crown Office of the number of cases, or of the number of persons tried, or of the results of the trials, except in cases in which judgment is entered up in the Queen's Bench, and in cases where fines are imposed. In 1863, judgment was entered up in 10 cases, one of which was an acquittal, and nine were convictions. There does not appear to have been any case of fine, and the sentences not having been passed by the Court in Banc, were not entered up of record in the Queen's Bench.

Fees in the Crown office.

The total amount of fees received in the Crown Office in 1863 was 607*l.* 8*s.* 4*d.*, which is less than the amount for any of the four preceding years. There are no fees received for business done for public departments.

Plea side.

Business of the courts.

The jurisdiction exercised by the three Superior Courts of Common Law on the Plea side, being under the same form of procedure, the chief proceedings of each Court, as extracted from the Returns for 1863 furnished by the Masters, are shown in the following summary, in comparison with the corresponding totals for 1862, and the average of the totals for the four years from 1862 to 1859 inclusive.

Bills of costs taxed.

The number of bills of costs taxed in 1863 in the Court of Queen's Bench was, as stated by the Masters in their return, as between party and party, 5,306, and as between attorney and client, 943. The former number is less by nearly 15 per cent. than the number for the preceding year. The latter number exceeds the number given in 1862, but in the return for that year it was stated that no accurate account had hitherto been kept of these bills. The number taxed in the Court of Exchequer, exclusive of bills taxed under the Statute, was 7,500, being less by ten per cent. than the number for the preceding year. For the Court of Common Pleas the practice in this respect being different from that of the two other Courts, no return of bills taxed is given.

Causes for trial, trials, &c.

The number of causes entered for trial, the number of trials, and the number withdrawn, struck out, &c., are shown, with regard to the Courts at Westminster in the returns furnished by the Associates of each of the three Courts, and with regard to the proceedings at Nisi Prius in the returns furnished by the Clerks of Assize and Clerks of the Crown. The following abstract gives the numbers for 1863 for each of the three Courts, with the totals, in comparison with the totals for 1862, and with the average of the totals for the four years 1862 to 1859, inclusive.

COMMON LAW COURTS.

The number of suits tried at Nisi Prius on each Circuit in 1863 was:—Home Circuit, 222; Midland, 106; Norfolk, 43; Northern, 112; Oxford, 110; Western, 102; North Wales, 43; South Wales, 29; County Palatine of Lancashire, 214; County Palatine of Durham, 16; total 997. In 1862 the total number was 1,059; in 1861, 1,024; in 1860, 965.

Judgments.

In the returns furnished by the Masters of each of the three Superior Courts, the number of judgments in each quarter of the year is shown for each Court, under the different terms, including without distinction the judgments at Westminster and on Circuit. It is to be remembered with regard to the judgments, as has been remarked in previous years, that parties for whom verdicts are given at Nisi Prius may make application for the return of the issues into the Courts at Westminster, but that in some cases a compromise is made after the verdict, and no further proceedings appear. The following are the judgments as shown in the returns for 1863, with the totals for 1862, and the average of the totals for the four years 1862 to 1859, inclusive, showing a decrease in the total number for 1863 of 6·7 per cent., as compared with the number for 1862, and of nearly the same, as compared with the average, the decrease being confined to the numbers for the Queen's Bench and Exchequer, while in the number for the Common Pleas there is a slight increase.

Forms of verdicts, &c.

The result of the proceedings in the causes in each of the Courts at Westminster is shown in each description of suit in the returns made by the Associates. The returns made by the Clerks of Assize and Clerks of the Crown also show the results of the proceedings in the causes on Circuit, under the different descriptions of suits, and account for the whole of the causes entered for trial on Circuit. The following abstract shows the results in the suits both at Westminster and on Circuit, as taken from the returns for 1863, with the totals for 1862, and the average of the totals for the four years 1862 to 1859, inclusive.

New trials, &c.

The judgments being subject to revision by the Courts sitting in Banco, on motions for new trials, or to enter or alter verdict, or for non suit, or arrest of judgment, or non obstante veredicto, the returns made by the Masters show that of such cases there were the following in 1863, the totals for the preceding year and the average of the four years being added :—

Issue of the proceedings.

Reviewing the proceedings as already shown, it appears that 100,042 suits were commenced by the issue of writs of summons; but only 27,034 appearances having been entered (27·0 per cent. of the number of writs issued), it follows that 73·0 per cent. of the cases were uncontested, the claims being at once settled by the defendants, unless where by default to enter an appearance, judgment was obtained against them. In the preceding year this proportion was 73·4 per cent. Against the number of appearances entered (the defendant's first step in a suit), 3,519 cases only were entered for trial, (the next stage in the proceedings,) the suits being thus further reduced in number by 13 per cent. Of this number again only 2,121, or 2·1 per cent. of the suits commenced were actually tried, and of these a considerable proportion were undefended.

The causes brought to trial or the appearances entered do not however fully represent the issue of the suits commenced. Under the different forms of procedure shown already, judgments were obtained in 33,743 cases, leaving 66,299, or 66·3 per cent. as the number and proportion of the suits commenced in which no proceedings were taken beyond the issue of the writ of summons. Of this large proportion, some of the cases may have been settled between the parties after the issue of the writ of summons, some may not have been pursued further by the plaintiff, and in either of these cases they are lost from the record; some may have been left pending, as the time which may elapse between the proceedings is uncertain. Writs to enforce the judgments were issued in 23,752, or 70·4 per cent. of the cases; 67·9 per cent. of the writs were to levy upon the goods; 27·6 per cent. were against the person; 1·8 per cent. for possession after recovery in ejectment, the remainder under the different forms already shown.

Remanets.

Upon the large amount of procedure which has been shown the number of remanets under the different descriptions was as follows at the end of each term in 1863, as stated in the returns for the respective Courts.

Business in Judges' chambers.

The business at chambers is shown in returns furnished by the Chamber Clerks of each of the 15 Judges. The returns give the proceedings in each of the chambers of each Court in periods of three months. The following is a summary of the proceedings under the different headings for each Court for 1863, with the totals for the three Courts in 1862, and the average of the four years 1862 to 1859 inclusive. The totals show the great extent of the chamber business. Under the five headings summonses, common orders, special orders, affidavits, affirmations, &c., and affidavits filed, the number of proceedings in 1863 amounts to 129,424 giving an average of 8628 of these matters alone for the chambers of each Judge.

Revenue business, (Table, p. 7.)

The sittings in Banco in the Court of Exchequer in the year 1863, relating to the revenue business of the Court are shown in a return furnished by the Queen's Remembrancer, and were as follows,—one judgment on English information argued in 1862, in which the decree was for the Crown; two cases in equity, in one of which the decree was for the Crown, in one for the defendant; seven motions in Court,—in one case it is remarked the argument occupied about seven days; 109 motions for attachment (without argument) touching legacy and succession duties, and one petition for payment of money out of Court.

The Queen's Remembrancer repeats the statement, that on the 9th November in each year the customary ceremony takes place of the presentation of the Lord Mayor of London to the Barons of the Court of Exchequer; and that on the morrow of Saint Martin (12th November) in each year, on the assembling of the council in the Court of Exchequer, the nomination takes place of the Sheriffs for England and Wales.

Suitors' fund.

The Masters have, as usual, appended to their returns a statement of the receipts to the suitors' fund, of the amounts paid thereout, and of the balance for the year; also, the fees levied, the disbursements therefrom, and the balance. As compared with the preceding year there is a decrease in 1863 both in the amount paid in to the fund and in the fees levied, amounting with regard to the former to 8 per cent., and with regard to the latter to 4·6 per cent.

The Masters of the Court of Common Pleas have added a note to their return that "in the amount of 'other payments' is included a sum of 284*l.* 16*s.* 6*d.* paid to a tipstaff of the Queen's prison by direction of the Treasury."

The following abstract shows the amounts for each of the three courts for 1863, with the totals for the preceding year.

The County Court Treasurers have furnished returns for 1863 showing in the usual form for each of the 59 County Courts Circuits, the proceedings for the recovery of debts, the proceedings under the Charitable Trusts Acts, and the proceedings under the Act of 20 & 21 Vict. for granting protection to wives deserted by their husbands.

The proceedings in these Courts under the Bankruptcy Act, 1861, for each of the years ending 11th October 1862 and 11th October 1863, will be found in the tables under the head of Bankruptcy, as shown in the returns prepared by the Chief Registrar of the Court of Bankruptcy and presented to Parliament pursuant to the Act. The proceedings in Bankruptcy are also farther adverted to at pages xii to xvi.

The proceedings under the jurisdiction of the County Courts in contentious cases relating to probates or administrations of wills are given as usual in the returns from the District Courts of Probate.

In the following abstract are shown the number of plaints in the whole of the County Courts and the totals under each heading in the returns, with reference to the recovery of debts, for the year 1863, in comparison with the preceding year, and with the average of the years 1862-61-60-59.

In the returns for 1863 the number of days the courts sat in each circuit is shown, the total number of days for the whole 59 circuits being 7,931, which, calculating on the number of causes determined, gives an average of 55·6 causes for each day of sitting. It will be seen, however, that in some of the circuits the number of causes determined averages as high as 144, 119, 116, 112, 111, 99, 75, &c., for each day of sitting.

The number of appeals was 15; the number of orders to stay proceedings, 41; of certiorari to remove proceedings, 68; these numbers having been in 1862 respectively 12, 47, and 81.

In the number of plaints entered there is, as compared with the number in 1862, a decrease of 48,034, or 5·7 per cent., following a decrease of 56,669, or 6·3 per cent., in 1862, as compared with 1861. As compared with the average of the four years, the number in 1863 shows a decrease of 12,809, or 1·6 per cent.

While so considerable a decrease has taken place in the number of plaints entered, the relative proportions have scarcely varied. The proportion borne by the number of cases determined in court to the total number of plaints entered was 55·3 per cent. in 1863 against 55·1 per cent. in 1862.; for the average of the four years the proportion is 52·4 per cent. The proportion of the causes decided with a jury was higher in 1863 than in the preceding year only by ·01 per cent.; compared with the average of the four years it was lower by ·02 per cent. With regard to the judgments, also, the proportions are almost the same in the two years. In 95·9 per cent. of the causes determined in each year the issue was for the plaintiff. The non-suits were 2·1 per cent. of the whole causes determined in 1863; 2·2 per cent. in 1862. The judgments for the defendant were 2 per cent. in 1863 against 1·9 per cent. in 1862. With regard to the average of the four years, the proportions were respectively 96·1; 2·0; and 1·9 per cent.

The proportionate number of debtors imprisoned, also, was lower in 1863 than in 1862, although slightly higher as compared with the average of the four years.

The total amount for which plaints were entered shows a decrease of 173,931*l.*, or 8·3 per cent., as compared with the amount for 1862, and this following a decrease of 161,657*l.*, or 8 per cent., in the latter year as compared with 1861. As compared with the average of the four years it will be seen that there was a decrease in 1863 amounting to 110,260*l.*, or 5·7 per cent. The total amount for which plaints were entered gives an average of 2*l.* 6*s.* 1*d.* for each plaint entered; for the preceding year this average was 2*l.* 7*s.* 4*d.* At the same time it will be seen that the greater proportion of the cases (as nearly as possible 70 per cent. in each year) were for 40*s.* or under. For above 50 per cent. of the total amount for which plaints were entered, judgments were obtained by plaintiffs on original hearings. Both in the amount of costs and in the amount of fees it will be seen there was a decrease in 1863 as compared with the preceding year, there having been a decrease in each of these amounts also in 1862 as compared with 1861.

Absconding debtors.

For the arrest of absconding debtors 58 warrants were issued in 1863; in 1862, there were 54 of these warrants; in 1861, 129; in two cases in 1863 bail was given; in ten cases the debt and costs were paid; in six the warrants were suspended.

Charitable Trusts Act.

The only proceeding under the Charitable Trusts Act shown in the returns is the making of one order.

Protection orders.

Protection orders to wives deserted by their husbands were registered under the 21 & 22 Vict. c. 85 in 501 cases. The number of these orders shows a continued decrease; in 1859 the number amounted to 719.

Borough, Hundred, and Manorial Courts, (Table, p. 12.)

From each of the thirty-three Local Courts of Civil Jurisdiction mentioned in the statistics of last year, and the names of which will be found in the tables of the present year, returns have been received for 1863. In eight of the courts no proceedings took place during the year, and in the Portsmouth Court of Record two plaints only were entered.

In the more important Courts, however, including the Sheriffs' Court of London, (in which 11,838 plaints were entered, being a greater number than in many of the County Court Circuits,) the Manchester Court of Record, the Salford Hundred Court of Record, the Bradford Manor Court, the Liverpool Court of Passage, and others, the amount of business was very considerable. As compared with the preceding year the amount of business appears to have varied greatly in amount in different Courts, having increased in some and diminished in others. In the Egremont Court Baron, where the amount for which plaints are entered varies from 1*s.* to 1*l.* 19*s.* 11*d.*, both the number of plaints and the total amount have more than doubled; in the Sheriffs' Court of London, with an increase in the number of plaints there was a decrease in the total amounts; at Manchester, Salford, Liverpool, Newcastle-on-Tyne there was a decrease in both; at Bradford (the amount for which plaints are entered is not recorded in this Court, except where judgment is signed), and at Bristol there was a decrease in the number of plaints.

In the Courts at Manchester and Salford actions are commenced by Writ of Summons, but the return for the Court at Salford having been in other respects assimilated, is now placed at the desire of the Registrar in the table with the other Courts, excepting the Court at Manchester. From a short history of the Court recently published, it appears that the Salford Hundred Court of Record is of great antiquity, having been founded probably more than one thousand years ago. In 1856 the modes of procedure in the Court were assimilated by Order in Council to those of the Superior Courts, since when it is stated the number of Writs issued annually has nearly doubled.

The total number of proceedings commenced in all these Local Courts in 1863 was 29,051, showing a decrease of 1,736, as compared with the number in the preceding year. The total amount sought to be recovered, exclusive of the amount in the Liverpool Court of Passage, in which no record of this particular is kept, was 159,485*l.*, being less than the amount in the preceding year by 29,338*l*, or 15·6 per cent. The amount of debt exclusive of costs for which judgment was obtained in all the Courts was 108,766*l.*, being less than the amount for the preceding year by 16,414*l.*, or 13·2 per cent. The total amount of costs was 17,344*l.* The total amount of fees on all proceedings was 10,956*l.* These sums are less respectively than the corresponding items for the preceding year by 1,438*l.*, and 937*l.* or 7·7 and 7·9 per cent. The amount of costs and fees together, in 1863, was 26 per cent. on the amount of debt recovered; in 1862 it was 25 per cent.

Lord Mayor's Court. (Table, p. 14.)

The proceedings in the Lord Mayor's Court of London under the varied and peculiar jurisdiction of this Court are given in the returns furnished by the Registrar of the Court, in the same form for 1863 as in the returns furnished in preceding years, and are distinguished as proceedings in actions, and proceedings in foreign attachments.

The number of actions entered in 1863 was 4,325, being an increase of 216, or 5·3 per cent., on the number in the preceding year, the number in 1862 having shown an increase of 179, or 4·5 per cent., on the number in 1861. There were also nine ejectments and five apprentice petitions. The total amount for which actions were entered was 103,080*l.*, being an increase of 12,561*l.*, or 13·9 per cent., on the amount in 1862, and following an increase in the latter year of 10,435*l.*, or 13 per cent., on the amount in 1861. The amounts for which actions were entered are classified from under 5*l.* to 20*l.* and above, the greatest number having been for 10*l.* and under 20*l.*; the next greatest number for 5*l.* and under 10*l.*; the next for 20*l.* and above, while for sums under 5*l.* there were only 24 actions for an aggregate of 87*l.* The whole of the proceedings will be found set forth in detail in the table.

Under the head of foreign attachments, the number of attachments stated is 700 for a total amount of 454,445*l.*, of which number 261, for an amount of 130,037*l.*, were withdrawn, being settled by the parties. The Registrar explains that the amount for which judgment is signed forms no criterion of the sum recovered in attachments, as the majority of cases is settled by parties themselves out of court, and thereupon the proceedings are withdrawn.

The number of attachments issued in 1863 exceeded the number in the preceding year by 81, or 13 per cent., the total amount for which attachments were issued is less than the amount in the preceding year by 131,088*l.*, or 22·4 per cent. In the total amounts for 1861 and 1862 there was a variation of 269,129*l.*, or 85 per cent., the largest amount belonging to the latter year. The total amount of fees (exclusive of costs) in 1863 was 2,597*l.*, being greater than the amount for the preceding year by 228*l.*, or 9·6 per cent.

STANNARIES COURTS, (Table, pp. 13–14.)

The proceedings of the Court of the Vice-Warden of the Stannaries during the year 1863 are shown in a return furnished by the Registrar of the Court in the usual form. The proceedings are given under the heads of "Equity Jurisdiction," extending to both the counties of Cornwall and Devon, of "Common Law Jurisdiction" extending to Cornwall only, no causes having been tried in 1863 in respect of the Stannaries of Devon; of "Proceedings of the Court in Petitions for Winding-up under the Joint Stock Companies Acts, 1856–7–8, and under the Companies Act, 1862," applying to both counties; and of "Proceedings of the Court not in any Cause," two cases under the latter only appearing, one in each county. The nature and extent of the proceedings will be best seen by a reference to the table. The Registrar states, that it will be observed from the returns that the number of causes on the Equity side of the Court has lately decreased; that this diminution appears to have been caused by the substitution of proceedings to wind up under the late Companies Act, 1862, in lieu of the old proceedings by a creditor's petition, which is now falling into comparative disuse; and that the effect and operation of a proceeding by petition under the above Act is so much more comprehensive and efficient than the old process, that it now forms a very large proportion of the entire business of the Court, and has rendered necessary an increase in the clerical department of the Registrar's Office.

Court of Bankruptcy, (Return, p. 15.)

The officers of the Court in London and of the District Courts of Bankruptcy, and the Registrars of the County Courts acting in Bankruptcy, being required, by the Bankruptcy Act of 1861, to make to the Chief Registrar annual returns of the business in their respective offices, special returns have not been furnished in addition for the purposes of the Judicial Statistics. But the general return framed by the Chief Registrar pursuant to the Act, which appears sufficient for all practical purposes, is made available, and is copied at length in the tables, a summary of the information which it contains being given below. Besides the former modes of procedure by petition for adjudication of bankruptcy, whether by creditors or by debtors against themselves, which still continue under the Act of 1861, the gaoler of every prison in which any prisoner is in custody for debt is required to make a monthly return of every such person. A Registrar of a Court of Bankruptcy, or of a County Court, according to the circumstances, is ordered to attend at the prison, who has power to make an order of adjudication of bankruptcy against every such person, to grant him protection and to order his release. Also, prisoners for debt, whether traders or not, unable through poverty to petition the proper Court, are at liberty to petition in formâ pauperis; and further, the Court may make adjudication of bankruptcy without the presentation of a petition, for non-payment after the sueing out of a judgment debtor summons against a debtor liable to a writ of capias ad satisfaciendum, or to be charged in execution in respect of any debt amounting to 50*l.*, exclusive of costs.

The general return for the year ended the 11th October 1862, framed by the Chief Registrar, shows the number of adjudications of bankruptcy within that year, under all these modes of procedure, to have been as follow:—

COURT OF BANKRUPTCY.

Comparison with average of three years.

The number of petitions in bankruptcy prosecuted to adjudication in the years 1858, 1859, and 1860, gives an average of 1,216 for each of those years. The jurisdiction of the Insolvent Debtors' Court and of the County Courts in insolvency being abolished by the Bankruptcy Act, 1861, and all debtors made subject to the provisions of that Act, debtors who previously would have obtained relief as insolvents will now come under the operation of the Bankruptcy Act. For comparison, therefore, to the number of petitions in bankruptcy prosecuted to adjudication may be added the number of insolvents who appeared for hearing. The average of the latter for the three years 1858–59–60 is 2,916, which added to the above 1,216, gives 4,132 as the average number of bankrupts and insolvents together, for each of those years, proving an excess of 5,536 in the number of adjudications of bankruptcy made in the first year of the operation of the Act of 1861 above the average of the preceding years, reckoning the bankrupts and insolvents for those years together.

The number of adjudications in 1861–2, where the debts of the bankrupt exceeded 300*l*., is stated in the return to have been 4,543, leaving 5,120 as the number where the debt in each case did not exceed 300*l*.

Produce realized.

The total amount of gross produce realized from the several bankrupts' estates was 647,094*l*. For the years 1858–59–60, the average of the amount realized was 1,364,353*l*.

Dividends.

The number of cases in 1861–2 in which a dividend was made was 550, of which 131 were in the district of the London Court, 249 in the District Courts, and 170 in the County Courts. The number of cases in which there was no dividend was 6,910.

The rates in the pound at which the dividends were made were as follow:—

Number of cases under	2*s*. 6*d*.		240
,, ,,	2*s*. 6*d*. and under	5*s*.	172
,, ,,	5*s*. ,,	7*s*. 6*d*.	76
,, ,,	7*s*. 6*d*. ,,	10*s*.	30
,, ,,	10*s*. ,,	15*s*.	16
,, ,,	15*s*. ,,	20*s*.	3
,, ,,	20*s*.		13

The cases in which there was any dividend were in the proportion of less than eight per cent. to the cases in which there was no dividend, while in 2·3 per cent. only of the cases in which there was a dividend was the full amount of 20*s*. in the pound paid.

Orders of discharge.

Under the Act of 1861 all classification of certificates is abolished, but after the last examination of the bankrupt the Court may suspend or refuse the order of discharge in any of the following cases;—if the bankrupt has been convicted of misdemeanor under the Act; or, without trial, if, in the opinion of the Court, he has traded with fictitious capital; if at the time of contracting his debts he had no reasonable ground of expectation of being able to pay them; if a trader, he omitted to keep proper books; if, whether trader or not, his insolvency is attributable to rash and hazardous speculation or unjustifiable extravagance in living; or, if he has vexatiously defended any debt.

The number of discharges granted in 1861–2, as stated in the return, was 6,053, the number suspended was 525, the number refused 154.

Trust Deeds.

The 192 section of the Act enacts that every deed or instrument made or entered into between a debtor and his creditors or any of them, or a trustee on their behalf, relating to the debts or liabilities of the debtor and his release therefrom, or the distribution, inspection, management, and winding up of his estate, or any of such matters, shall be as valid and effectual and binding on all the creditors of such debtor as if they were parties to and had duly executed the same, on condition that a majority in number representing three-fourths in value of the creditors whose debts shall respectively amount to 10*l*. and upwards, shall assent to such deed or instrument, subject also to the registration of the deed within 28 days of its execution by the debtor, and to certain other conditions set forth in the Act.

Court of Bankruptcy.

Of such deeds the number registered in the year is stated in the return to have been 2,651, viz., deeds of assignment 1,967, deeds of composition 640, deeds of inspectorship 44.

Master's Office.

The Act further provides that all bills of costs, charges, fees, and disbursements of solicitors and attorneys in matters under the Act before the Court of Appeal in Chancery sitting in Bankruptcy, and the Court in London, and such taxable bills as may be specially referred to the Master by any District Court or any County Court, shall be taxed by the Master, subject to the review of the Court in London; also, that in every Country District Court and in every County Court exercising jurisdiction under the Act, all bills of costs, &c. shall (unless where such Court shall otherwise direct) be taxed and settled by the Registrar of such Court, subject to appeal to the Court of which he is registrar; the Commissioner of any District Court or the Judge of any County Court being empowered to refer any such bills or any question thereon to the Taxing Master in London. All charges, fees, and disbursements also of any auctioneer, appraiser, broker, valuer, or accountant, or other person not being an attorney or solicitor, are to be settled by the Master, except such charges, &c. as may be incurred in any District Court or County Court which are to be settled by the Registrar of the Court in which they arise, and the amount of the bills so settled and no more shall be recoverable. The number of bills taxed under these provisions is stated in the return to have been 5,263, and the total gross amount 111,939*l.*, viz. solicitors' bills 83,716*l.*, messengers' bills 15,215*l.*, assignees and others for travelling expenses 277*l.*, auctioneers' bills 10,201*l.*, accountants' bills 2,530*l.* The amount struck off on taxation was 9,962*l.*, or nearly 9 per cent.

Appeals.

The number of appeals stated in the return is 49, the judgments in which were, in 14 cases, affirmed; in 20 cases, reversed; in 6, varied; and in 9 they were pending, abandoned, or arranged. Under trust deeds there were two appeals, in both of which the judgments were affirmed. From County Courts also there were two appeals, in one of which the judgment was affirmed and in one reversed.

Messengers.

The persons discharging the duty of messenger in the Court of Bankruptcy in London and in the District Courts of Bankruptcy in the country at the time of the Act of 1861 coming into operation were continued, the number to be reduced to two, on vacancies occurring, in the London Court, and to one in the district Courts. In the County Courts having jurisdiction in bankruptcy, the high bailiff discharges the duties of messenger. The messenger acts as the deputy of the official assignee in taking and retaining possession of the bankrupt's estate, and after the appointment of the creditors' assignee, acts under his instructions in keeping or discontinuing possession.

Fees and payments.

An account is given in the return of the fees received by the messengers and of payments actually disbursed, and for assistance, including the salaries of the messengers and their clerks, and also of sums received by way of deposits, from or on account of any bankrupt in trust for his estate. The total amount of receipts for business done under the Bankruptcy Act, including deposits, applied to the payment of bills was 32,072*l.*; of payments, 28,679*l.*; leaving a surplus of 3,393*l.* Of these receipts the sums of 13,655*l.*, and of the payments 12,958*l.*, were by the messengers in London, the remainder was among the seven district courts.

Deposits.

The total amount of deposits received by the messengers was 10,408*l.* The amount returned or applied to the payment of bills was 7,653*l.* Of these amounts, 8,299*l.* of receipts and 6,179*l.* of the amount returned or applied to the payment of bills were in respect of the London Court, the remainder in respect of the Country District Courts. The deposits received by the high bailiffs of the County Courts amounted to 7,228*l.*, the amount returned by them or applied to the payment of bills was 5,920*l.*

COURT OF BANKRUPTCY.

Registrars of County Courts.

The total amount of fees in bankruptcy shown in the return as received by the Registrars of the County Courts is 7,844*l.*; the total payments, 1,721*l.* The amount shown as received by the bailiffs is 7,332*l.*; the total payments 5,958*l.*

The total revenue of the Court of Bankruptcy for the year, as shown by the accountant, was 119,462*l.*; the total expenditure, including salaries, compensations, retiring allowances, expenses of courts and offices, bank remuneration, registrar of meetings, rent, solicitor for pauper prisoners, and costs of prosecutions, 109,337*l.*

The total amount received by the Bank of England on account of the accountant in bankruptcy was 1,004,524*l.*; the total paid was 1,106,321*l.*

As compared with the preceding year there is a decrease of 1,193, or 12·4 per cent., in the total number of adjudications, the proportionate decrease being least under County Courts, viz., 3·2 per cent., under Country District Courts it amounts to 22·8 per cent., under London District Court to 16·4 per cent. The decrease extends to each form of procedure, the proportionate decrease being least in the number of adjudications in formâ pauperis, viz., 8·6 per cent. The greatest proportionate decrease is in the number by registrars at the prisons, viz., 20·8 per cent. In the number on petition by a creditor it is 12·3 per cent. In the number on petition of a debtor it is 11·4 per cent. The adjudications on judgment debtor summonses in the former year were 13.

Produce realized.

The amount of gross produce realized on the bankrupts' estates in this year was 698,598*l.* 9*s.* 7*d.*, of which 423,141*l.* 3*s.* 10*d.* was realized by creditors' assignees; 275,457*l.* 5*s.* 9*d.* by the official assignees. The total amount exceeds the amount for the preceding year by 51,304*l.*, or almost 8 per cent.

,,	10*s.*	,, 15*s.*	43
,,	15*s.*	,, 20*s.*	13
,,	20*s.*		20

The proportion borne by the number of cases in which there was a dividend in this year to those in which there was no dividend was 17·6 per cent. The cases in which the full amount of 20*s.* in the pound was paid were in the proportion of 4·3 per cent. to the whole number of cases in which there was a dividend.

COURT OF CHANCERY, (pp. 17–21.)

Returns have been furnished by the different officers of the High Court of Chancery for the year ending the 1st November 1863, in the same forms as the returns for the preceding years, showing the proceedings in the different branches of the Court, the fees levied upon the suitors, the amounts paid into Court by the suitors, during the year, and the amounts paid out to them under the decisions of the Court. The returns for the different branches of the Court of Chancery, with two exceptions, which will be found noticed in their places, now extend to five complete years, beginning with 1859, that is, the year ending at the commencement of November 1859, each year being reckoned from November to November. In the tables for 1863, the proceedings in the different branches of the Court are given in detail; in the following summaries the totals under the different headings are shown for 1863, in comparison with the totals for 1862, and with the average of the totals for the four years from 1859 to 1862, inclusive.

Registrars' Return, (p. 17.)

The following are the proceedings in all the Courts, under the different heads, as shown in the return made by the Registrars, the business in each of the Appellate Courts of the Lord Chancellor, the Lord Chancellor and Lords Justices, and the Lords Justices, and in each of the original Courts of the Master of the Rolls and of each of the three Vice-Chancellors, being distinguished in the table. The Registrars observe that their return for this year differs in some slight respects from previous returns, the item No. 6, "claims," being omitted, while some other items, which are noticed below, are inserted.

The nature and results of the proceedings are shown in the table. In the remaining 24 courts there were no proceedings. In 1862 the total number of suits was 31; in 1861, 36; in 1860, 35; in 1859, 28. In 1863 there were proceedings in 82 cases on suits for faculties, distributed among 14 of the courts; in 81 of the cases faculties were decreed; in one case the faculty was refused. Of similar proceedings there were in 1862, 77; in 1861, 95; in 1860, 81; in 1859, 87. The amount of the court fees as shown in the returns for 1863 was 300*l.*; in 1862 it was the same; in 1861, 294*l.*; in 1860, 288*l.*; in 1859, 281*l.*

JUDICIAL COMMITTEE, (Table, p. 28.)

The proceedings of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council in the year 1863 are shown in the return furnished by the Registrar of the Privy Council in the usual form, under the heads of Admiralty, Ecclesiastical Courts, Channel Islands and Isle of Man, Colonies, and India.

The greatest number of appeals entered was from the Admiralty Courts, viz., 23 against 19 from the colonies, and 18 from India. The total numbers as shown in the return for 1863 were as follow, in comparison with the totals for each of the four preceding years:—

	1863.	1862.	1861.	1860.	1859.
Number of appeals entered - - -	60	51	78	67	59

In 10 of the appeals heard and determined in 1863 no costs were given; in 30, costs were given.

The total amount of costs taxed (in 30 appeals in which the costs on one side only were taxed by the registrars) was 7,905*l.* 16*s.* 1*d.*, giving an average of 263*l.* 10*s.* 6*d.* for each case.

JUDICIAL COMMITTEE.

The total amount of Council Office fees on appeals in the year was 824*l.* 14*s.* 6*d.*; in 1862 the amount was 1,381*l.* 11*s.* 0*d.* The average for the three years preceding 1862 is 739*l.* 11*s.* 0*d.* Nine applications for extension or confirmation of Letters Patent were lodged within the year; two such applications were withdrawn; six were dismissed, and seven were granted. The total amount of Council Office fees on patent cases was 291*l.* 11*s.* 0*d.*; in 1862 the amount was 166*l.* 10*s.* 0*d.*; in 1861, 101*l.* 3*s.* 0*d.*; in 1860, 39*l.* 13*s.* 6*d.*

The Lords of the Judicial Committee of Privy Council further heard during the year, 13 petitions in appeals (interlocutory) argued by counsel.

HOUSE OF LORDS, (Table, p. 28.)

The judicial proceedings of the House of Lords in the session of 1863 are shown in the return furnished in the usual form by the Clerk of the Parliaments. The return will be found copied in the tables, and shows the number of appeals and causes in error presented during the session, under the heads of Real Property, Personal Property, Real and Personal, and Miscellaneous, distinguishing the number of cases from the different courts, for England, Scotland, and Ireland. The greatest number of cases from any court it will be seen, is from the Court of Session in Scotland, equalling the whole number for England, while four cases only were presented from Ireland, from the Court of Chancery.

In the following abstract the total proceedings in the session of 1863 are shown, in comparison with the totals for each of the preceding sessions to which these statistics extend.

	1863.	1862.	1861.	1860.	1859.	1858.
From the Court of Chancery—
England	15	12	16	30	20	13

Ireland	—	—	—	—	—	1
From the Court of Divorce, England	3	2	1	4	2	—
Total	50	49	64	108	63	47

In 1863, four causes were withdrawn, including one of the divorce cases; 17 were dismissed for want of prosecution. The number of judgments delivered was 27, including causes heard in previous session and standing over for judgment; of these, ten were simply affirmed; three were affirmed with declaration or variation; one was in part reversed and in part affirmed; four were simply reversed; and nine were reversed with declaration, direction, or remit. The total number of causes heard in 1863 was 25; the causes remaining for hearing were 31. In the preceding year 30 causes were heard, and 35 remained for hearing; in 1861, 26; in 1860, 27; in 1859 and 1858, each, 49 causes remained for hearing. In 1863 the total amount of fees was 1,449*l.* 2*s.* 0*d.*; in 1862, 1,737*l.* 6*s.* 0*d.*; in 1861, 2,528*l.* 15*s.* 0*d.*; in 1860, 2,493*l.* 5*s.* 6*d.*; in 1859, 2,023*l.*; in 1858, 1,791*l.* 2*s.* 0*d.*

Throughout the foregoing abstract, the numbers for 1863, as taken from the Tables, are placed in comparison with the corresponding numbers for the preceding year, and generally with the average of four years, showing in each case, at one view, the increase or diminution in 1863.

The comparison gives varying results. In some cases, it will be seen, the numbers for 1863 are higher, in others lower, than for the former periods.

Dublin, July 22, 1864.

SIR,

Having, in November last, received their Excellencies' the Lords Justices commands to undertake the collection and compilation of the Judicial and Criminal Statistics of Ireland, so as to correspond, as nearly as circumstances would allow, with the Judicial and Criminal Statistics which have for some years been collected and compiled in England and Wales, I have now the honor of transmitting for the information of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, the Judicial and Criminal Statistics of Ireland for the year 1863, with introductory observations.

The English Tables have been taken as a basis for the forms of return, but modifications were introduced where the diversity of circumstances in the two countries rendered it necessary. One difficulty in the way of collecting the Statistics was that they had to be retrospective; and the books and records of the different offices had not been kept with any view of furnishing the information required.

The year ending 31st December, 1863, was that generally adopted for the returns; but in some cases a year ending at an earlier day in 1863 was used, it being found indispensable to consult, in this respect, the convenience of the officers applied to.

The Tables in the English Statistics are not uniform in this respect, and it was found impossible to make the Irish Tables in all cases agree with the corresponding English Tables in the date of the termination of the year comprised in the returns.

There is for each Table in the English Statistics a corresponding Table in the Irish Statistics, and in most cases the Tables supply full information; in a few cases, however, the Tables are not complete, owing to the absence or imperfect condition of some returns; but, considering the short notice which the officers received, and the retrospective nature of the information required, it is very creditable that so many should have given complete and satisfactory returns.

I have the honor to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

W. NEILSON HANCOCK.

MAJOR-GENERAL SIR THOMAS A. LARCOM, K.C.B.,
Under-Secretary to His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant,
Dublin Castle.

INTRODUCTORY AND EXPLANATORY REPORT.

CONSTABULARY AND POLICE.

CONSTABULARY AND POLICE.

The Police Establishments in Ireland are as in England of three kinds.

The Constabulary of Ireland corresponds to the English County Police, the Dublin Metropolitan Police to the London Metropolitan Police, and the local force of Town Constables in Ireland corresponds to the Borough Police in England.

The Constabulary of Ireland.

The County Police of Ireland, now organized into a single force called the Constabulary of Ireland, had its origin in an Act of the Irish Parliament so far back as 1787 (stat. 27, Geo. III., c. 40, Ir.) A power was thereby given to the Lord Lieutenant and Privy Council in Ireland of establishing districts, consisting of one or more baronies or parts of counties. For each of these districts the Grand Juries at Assizes, who have power of taxation in Ireland for county purposes, were enabled to appoint Sixteen constables, the Lord Lieutenant appointing a Chief Constable. As the districts were coterminous with baronies, the constables were called Barony Constables.

A further power of appointing Barony Constables was given to Grand Juries by the Irish Parliament in 1792 (stat. 32 Geo. III., c. 16, Ir.) In 1814, when Sir Robert Peel was Chief Secretary for Ireland, a special police force was established, called the Peace Preservation Police (stat. 54 Geo. III., c. 131).

The Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, with the assent of the Privy Council, was empowered to proclaim any county, county of a city, or barony, to be in a state of disturbance, and thereupon to appoint therein a Chief Magistrate, a Chief Constable, and Sub-Constables, not exceeding Fifty.

In 1822 the system of barony constables was remodelled; the Lord Lieutenant was enabled to appoint a Chief Constable in every barony, and the appointment of the sub-constables was given to the Magistrates of the county instead of to the Grand Juries. There were four Provincial Inspectors appointed over these reorganized Barony Constables.

In 1836 the Peace Preservation Police and the Barony Constables were consolidated into a single force, since called the Constabulary of Ireland. The government of the force, instead of being divided between four Provincial Inspectors and a number of Chief Magistrates, was intrusted to a single head officer, the Inspector-General, who is in immediate communication with the Executive Government of Ireland, and controls the entire force. The Chief Magistrates, instead of commanding the police, were confined to magisterial duties, and the number of them increased to the present number of seventy-two Resident Magistrates, who, as paid public officers, form an important element in the local administration of justice in Ireland.

The dates at which the Irish police force originated and was formed into a complete system are remarkable, as contrasting with the corresponding dates in England. The Irish county police, commencing in 1787, was completely organized on its present basis in 1836; the English county police did not commence till 1839, and was not extended to all the counties in England and Wales till 1856.

The expense of the Irish Constabulary is defrayed almost entirely by Her Majesty's Treasury out of the general taxes, only a small portion being defrayed out of local taxes in the case of proclaimed districts and counties having more than their statutable number of men.

The Constabulary of Ireland (Table 1, pp. 1, 2).

The return respecting the Establishment of the Constabulary of Ireland is divided into five parts. The first shows the central establishment and its cost; the second, the local establishment in counties and counties of cities and towns, with the cost and the proportion paid by Her Majesty's Treasury; the third shows the effective strength of the force in the counties, with the population of each county at the last Census; the fourth shows the amount charged to the counties for extra force, and the number of men for whom such charge was made; and the fifth part contains a calculation of the average cost per man.

The Inspector-General has furnished a statement, which I give in a note,* of the duties which have been imposed on the Irish Constabulary since their constitution as a police force in 1836. Some of those duties are of a local character, but many of them are of a general character, the expense of which ought naturally to be defrayed from the general taxes.

* "In transmitting the accompanying table of the strength and cost of the Irish Constabulary, drawn up, as far as our present means admit, in a form similar to corresponding statements applicable to England and Wales, it may be proper to advert to a few particulars, which, it is submitted, ought never to be lost sight of in forming a comparison of the cost of the Constabulary on the two sides of the Channel.

"The present Constabulary Force of Ireland was organized from previously existing materials, by the Act 6 Wm. IV., ch. 13, in the year 1836. That Act prescribes their general duties, as peace officers, and at the same time fixes the salaries which they are to receive for the discharge of those duties.

"Now, although the scale of salaries has ever since remained unaltered (a small allowance, called Long Service-pay excepted, and which does not count in case of superannuation), the duties performed by the Constabulary have been continually augmenting—such additional duties being, therefore, in effect gratuitously performed.

"The following are some of these duties, not contemplated in 1836, when the salaries were fixed:—

1. The taking of the Agricultural Statistics, annually.
2. The Census, decennially.
3. Serving and collecting notices and also polling papers, for the election of Poor Law Guardians.

} A small allowance is granted in these cases, to cover expenses, which it barely does.

4. Escorting convicts and prisoners—duties formerly performed by the Military, at greater cost.
5. Enforcing various new Acts of Parliament, e. g.:—
    - Fishery Laws.
    - Spirits Acts.
    - Towns Improvement Act.
6. Executing Loan Fund warrants.
7. Supervision of convicts on ticket-of-leave.
8. Act as billet masters.
9. Act as inspectors of weights and measures, thereby saving the entire cost of the inspectors formerly performing, and less effectively, these duties.
10. Customs duties, for the preventing of smuggling.
11. Revenue duties, for the suppression of illicit distillation. The annual cost of the establishment of Revenue Police, now superseded, was £65,000. The augmentation to the Constabulary—rendered necessary by their undertaking the duty in question—costs £15,000, whereby a direct saving of £50,000 annually, is effected; while the new arrangement contributes indirectly to the improvement of the revenue by the increased number of licences taken out, in consequence of a more vigorous enforcement of the revenue laws, and the increased consumption of duty-paid spirits, as is evidenced by the fact, that, since the Constabulary took up the duty of prosecuting the keepers of unlicensed houses (called sheeben houses)—viz., in 1855, the number of detections have decreased from 2,572 to 517 in the last year.

"The value of these services, therefore, it is repeated, ought to be taken into account in any estimate of the cost of the Irish Constabulary. And the cost of such services performed in England and Wales, should also, upon the same principle, be kept in view, in forming a just comparison between the respective establishments.

"For instance, with regard to the Census.

"In the year 1851 a large number of civil enumerators were employed to assist the Constabulary in taking the Census of that year; but in 1861 the duty was wholly performed by the Constabulary.

"By the Table annexed it will be seen that a saving to the public of £1,293 18*s.* 8½*d.* has been effected by

The Dublin Metropolitan Police (Table 2, p. 3).

The county of the city of Dublin and part of the county of Dublin, comprising Kingstown, and other important suburbs, form the district of the Dublin Metropolitan Police. This force was established in 1837, on the model of the London Metropolitan Police. It is under the government of two Police Commissioners, who are in constant communication with the Executive department of the Irish Government.

The return, with respect to the Dublin Metropolitan Police, is divided into four parts.

discontinuing the civil enumerators. In fact, the entire cost of enumeration, in 1861, by the Constabulary alone, was less than the sum paid to civilians in 1851 for the portion of the duty discharged by them.

"It is, however, only by a reference to the cost of enumerating the population in England and in Scotland that a proper estimate can be formed of the advantage gained by employing the Constabulary as sole enumerators in Ireland. The figures in Table II., showing the cost per 100 of enumerating the population in England and Scotland, are taken from an abstract of the last Census by Mr. Hammack, of the Registrar-General's Office, England. The particulars of the whole expense incurred by the Irish Constabulary are given in Table III. It will be observed that 30,682 enumerators were employed in England, and that the cost amounted to 6*s.* 8*d.* per 100 persons enumerated. In Scotland the enumerators were 8,075, and the cost 12*s.* 0¾*d.* per 100 enumerated. In Ireland 5,096 members of the Constabulary force were employed as enumerators, and the cost amounted to only eight pence three farthings per 100 of the population enumerated. The accounts have been made up, and the entire cost, with particulars, appear in Table II. A large sum included therein (£391 14*s.*) was paid for stamps on the declarations which verified the returns; the allowance for pens, ink, &c., came to £548 8*s.* 6*d.*; while the entire sum received by the Constabulary as 'extra pay' (calculated according to scale allowed when on ordinary duties) only amounted to £488 6*s.* 6*d.*, which, divided amongst 5,096 enumerators, gave an average of one shilling and eleven pence (nearly) to each constable or sub-constable employed for the discharge of the onerous and important duties connected with his office of enumerator—spread, in most instances, over many days—and which required, in remote districts, much physical as well as mental exertion.

"In England, every one of 30,682 enumerators received 'a fixed fee of £1 for his duty in connexion with the Census,' and 'an additional fee of two shillings for every 100 persons enumerated after the first 400 names;' also, 'an allowance of six pence per mile for every mile necessarily travelled after the first five miles.' The total cost of the enumeration in England, in 1861, was £67,351 13*s.* 7*d.*, which, divided amongst the 30,682 enumerators, would give an average sum paid to each enumerator of £2 3*s.* 7½*d.* In like manner, the total cost in Scotland, £18,464 0*s.* 2½*d.*, divided amongst the 8,075 enumerators, would represent the average sum paid to each enumerator in that country as £2 5*s.* 8¾*d.*

"Ireland was divided into 261 districts, and the Sub-Inspectors of Constabulary performed, in each of those districts, the duties performed by Superintendent-Registrars in England. The latter are paid officers under the Registration Acts in England; but each received, in addition to his salary, 'a fixed fee of £5 5*s.* for his duties connected with the Census, together with an additional fee of 2*s.* for every 1,000 persons enumerated over and above the first 10,000 names in his district.' The Sub-Inspectors of Constabulary received no remuneration for performing the same duty in Ireland, and were only allowed 2*s.* 6*d.* each to provide necessary stationery.

Constabulary and Police.

The first shows the establishment in the office of the Commissioners, with the cost, and the proportion paid for local services by Her Majesty's Treasury; the second, the establishment, in divisions, with the population of each division, the cost of the establishment, and the proportion paid from local sources and by Her Majesty's Treasury; the third, relates to the Dublin Police Courts, and the fourth exhibits a calculation of the average cost per man.

Local force of Town Constables and Watchmen, &c. (Table 3, pp. 4, 5).

In the Third Table, the state of the different towns in Ireland, under Town Councils and Town Commissioners, as to local force of town constables and watchmen, is given as far as it has been ascertained. It appears that the local force is very unequally distributed; only three towns out of the entire number (101) have a force of more than ten constables, as distinct from watchmen or fire brigades, viz.:—Belfast, 175; Londonderry, 25; and Drogheda, 11. The police duty, in part of these towns, and of all the other towns outside the Dublin Metropolitan Police district, devolves on the Constabulary of Ireland. Only twenty-nine towns have watchmen, and only six have fire brigades, viz.: Dublin, Belfast, Limerick, Newry, Banbridge, and Armagh. Forty-one towns under Town Councils or Commissioners appear to have no local force of any kind. This number appears likely to increase, for in Coleraine where there were six watchmen in the earlier part of 1863 there have been none since the 1st of August, 1863. The watchmen had been originally appointed and paid under the Irish Town Commissioners Act of 1829, and were continued to be paid even after the town adopted the Irish Town Improvement Act of 1854; but the Commissioners of Coleraine state that they have been recently advised that they have no legal power to pay them out of the rates. Nearly all the towns

This number, for a population of 5,798,967 in 1861, without allowing for any decrease since 1861, gives 1 to every 417, as the average proportion of police to population for Ireland.

The highest proportion of police to population in Ireland, is in the North Riding of Tipperary, where there are 558 police to a population, in 1861, of 109,220, or 1 to every 195 of the population. The lowest proportion is in the county of Londonderry, where, for a population of 184,209 in 1861, there is a constabulary force of 152, and a local force of 31, making 183 in all, or 1 to every 1,000 of the population. In the Dublin Metropolitan Police district the police force is 1,079, to a population of 335,449, as returned by the Metropolitan Police Commissioners, or 1 to every 311 of the population.

Criminal Classes.

The fourth of the Constabulary and Police Tables shows the number of criminal classes under the same heads as the corresponding English Returns. Some slight differences in the mode of collecting the information require to be noticed; in England the month of September is the period selected for observation; in the case of the Dublin Metropolitan Police district alone was the month of September used in Ireland; in the rest of Ireland, where the information was obtained from the Constabulary, it was found impracticable to collect the information so conveniently for September as for the month of December, and so the latter month was selected.

The number of tramps and vagrants has been ascertained by taking as the number the average daily number found by the police in their respective districts during a month. This was the method adopted in England for the year 1862; but for the year 1863 a new method has been adopted in England, by taking the number who slept in each district on a stated night in September, thus guarding against having the same vagrant or tramp who, in a month, passes through many districts, unduly increasing the daily average in each.

CONSTABULARY AND POLICE.

As there exist no statistics of the criminal classes in Ireland for previous years similar to those now compiled, I have, in the following table, for the purpose of testing whether the results now ascertained are satisfactory or otherwise, compared the results with the corresponding statistics for England and Wales, by adding the English total numbers for the same year. I have also added a column reducing the English totals in proportion to the relative population of England and Wales to that of Ireland, assuming that the population of England and Wales increased from 1861 to September, 1863, at the same rate it increased from 1851 to 1861, and that the population of Ireland diminished in the same period at the same rate as it decreased from 1851 to 1861.* The further columns show how much the respective criminal classes in Ireland are in excess, or less than what is found in a portion of the population of England and Wales equal to that of Ireland.

The following table shows the total number of criminal classes in Ireland for the year 1863, and compares them with the corresponding classes in England and Wales.

Total of all ages, . . .	10,427	11,863	22,290	126,136	34,090	–	11,800

It appears from this table that the criminal classes at large in Ireland in 1863 were 22,290, whilst in an equal population in England and Wales the numbers in 1863 were 34,090. The most remarkable figures in the table are the small number of prostitutes in Ireland. Prostitutes under 16 years of age are only one-eighth the number of those found in an equal population of England and Wales, and those over 16 are less than half the number to be expected from the English statistics. The number of known thieves and depredators is also very low. Those under 16 years of age are less than one-third the number to be found in England and Wales. The vagrants and tramps in Ireland, on the other hand, are in greater numbers than are to be found in England and Wales, those under 16 years of age being 3,399, as compared with 1,975 in an equal population in England and Wales in 1863, and being also in excess as compared with 1,881, the proportional number for England and Wales in 1862, ascertained in exactly the same method as adopted in the Irish statistics. The number of youthful vagrants are reduced in England and Wales by the operation of the Industrial Schools Acts. There were 1,339 children in these schools in England and Wales in 1863, who would probably have been vagrants

* This gives the present population of Ireland to that of England and Wales as 1 to 3·7.

CONSTABULARY AND POLICE.

and tramps but for these schools. The Industrial Schools Acts have not been extended to Ireland.

The arrangement of police districts in Ireland does not admit of a comparison of the towns in Ireland so readily as in England; but the following table shows the difference between the Dublin Metropolitan Police district, the counties of Down, Antrim, and Armagh, where the linen trade and agriculture both exist, the provinces of Munster and Connaught, almost entirely agricultural, and the whole of Ireland.

	Criminal Classes.	Prostitutes.
Dublin Metropolitan Police district,	2,444 or 1 in 137	984 or 1 in 341
Counties Down, Antrim, and Armagh (linen trade, agriculture),	2,259 or 1 in 384	654 or 1 in 1,327
Provinces of Munster and Connaught (agriculture),	9,206 or 1 in 263	1,054 or 1 in 2,302
Ireland,	22,290 or 1 in 260	3,465 or 1 in 1,673

To judge whether these proportions are satisfactory or not, I add the corresponding proportion for England and Wales.

	Criminal Classes.	Prostitutes.
The Metropolis,	1 in 243	1 in 576
Pleasure towns,	1 in 80	1 in 247
Commercial ports,	1 in 116	1 in 223

Midland counties,	1 in 140	1 in 1,533
All England and Wales,	1 in 159	1 in 696

Total Criminal Classes.

In order to ascertain the entire number of the criminal classes, it is necessary to add to those at large at any time those in confinement. The following table exhibits an estimate of these compared with the corresponding estimate in the English statistics.

* TOTAL CRIMINAL CLASSES, 1863.	IRELAND.	ENGLAND AND WALES.		Irish Criminal Classes in excess of those in equal Population in England and Wales.	Irish Criminal Classes less than those in equal Population in England and Wales.
		Total.	Number in portion of the Population of England and Wales equal to that of Ireland.
Criminal Classes at large, including 9,900 tramps and vagrants,	22,290	126,139	34,091	–	11,801
In Local Prisons (exclusive of debtors),	2,803	17,960	4,854	–	2,051
In the Convict Prisons,	1,768	8,018	2,167	–	399
In Reformatories,	591†	3,268	883	–	292
	27,452	155,385	41,995	–	14,543

It appears from this table that the criminal classes in Ireland, as well those in prison as those at large, are less numerous than the corresponding classes in an equal population in England and Wales.

Houses of Bad Character.

The number of houses of bad character in 1863, as known to the police, is as follows:—

HOUSES OF BAD CHARACTER, 1863.	IRELAND.	ENGLAND AND WALES.		Irish Houses of Bad Character in excess of those in equal Population in England and Wales.	Irish Houses of Bad Character less than those in equal Population in England and Wales.
		Total.	Number in a portion of the Population of England and Wales equal to that of Ireland.
Houses of receivers of stolen goods,	1,116	2,580	697	419	–
Houses the resort of thieves and prostitutes,	1,540	6,718	1,815	–	275
Brothels and houses of ill-fame,	657	7,204	1,947	–	1,290
Tramps' lodging-houses,	3,149	6,208	1,678	1,471	–
Total houses of bad character,	6,462	22,710	6,137	325	–

* In this table the number in Bridewells in Ireland is not included: the number, however, is small, and is more than counterbalanced by the omission of the numbers in Industrial Schools in England and Wales, and the number of military prisoners in the local prisons in England and Wales.

† Under detention in Schools, 31st December, 1862.—Report of Inspector of Reformatories, 1863, p. 84.

CONSTABULARY AND POLICE.

It appears from this table that the most unfavourable feature in the Irish statistics is the number of tramps' lodging-houses, arising from the excess of vagrants and tramps already noticed. The houses of receivers of stolen goods are also in excess, and the total number of houses of bad character is somewhat greater in Ireland than is to be found in a corresponding population in England and Wales.

Crimes Committed (Tables, pp. 11, 31).

Tables 5 to 11 inclusive are intended to show the number of crimes committed so far as known to the police, the number of persons apprehended, and the disposal of them. Tables 5, 6, and 7 relate to indictable offences, and 8, 9, and 10 to offences determined summarily.

Many indictable offences formerly the subject of indictment alone can now be determined summarily as well as on indictment. An ambiguity in the heading of the return led the Commissioners of the Dublin Metropolitan Police District to include in their return of 7,566 persons apprehended for indictable offences, 4,734 persons who committed offences of an indictable character, but whose cases were afterwards disposed of summarily; the daily sitting of the Police Court in Dublin leading to the prevalence of this mode of disposing of indictable offences. The Constabulary Inspectors appear to have included under the head of indictable offences only those cases of an indictable character which were not disposed of summarily.

The method adopted by the Constabulary seems to correspond with the way in which the returns are made in England. In order, therefore, to get numbers comparable with the English statistics, it will be necessary to separate the Dublin Metropolitan Police district from that of the rest of Ireland, as appears from the following figures.

If we deduct from the population of Ireland the population of the Dublin Metropolitan Police district, we obtain the following result:—

1863.	Population.	Number of Crimes.	Persons apprehended.
All Ireland,	5,798,967	16,794	13,948
Dublin Metropolitan Police District,	335,449	9,520	7,566
Ireland (exclusive of Dublin Metropolitan Police District),	5,463,518	7,274	6,382

It is obvious from these figures that, owing to the different way of making the returns, the results, as to the Dublin Metropolitan Police district and the rest of Ireland, are not comparable.

Indictable Offences.

The following table gives the number of indictable offences not disposed of summarily, and the number of persons apprehended; and to show whether they are satisfactory or not, I have appended the corresponding numbers from the English statistics.

INDICTABLE OFFENCES AND PERSONS APPREHENDED, 1863.	IRELAND, exclusive of Dublin Metropolitan Police District.	ENGLAND AND WALES.		Irish Indictable Offences and Offenders outside Dublin in excess of those in equal Population in England and Wales.	Irish Indictable Offences and Offenders outside Dublin less than those in equal Population in England and Wales.
		Total.	Number in a portion of the Population of England and Wales equal to that of Ireland, exclusive of Dublin Metropolitan Police District.
Indictable offences not disposed of summarily,	7,274	52,211	13,387	–	6,113
Persons apprehended for indictable offences,	6,382	30,410	7,797	–	1,415

CONSTABULARY AND POLICE.

If the numbers apprehended in Dublin be added, and those disposed of summarily be omitted, the following is the result.

PERSONS APPREHENDED, &c., 1863.	IRELAND.	ENGLAND AND WALES.		Irish Criminal Classes in excess of those in equal Population in England and Wales.	Irish Criminal Classes less than those in equal Population in England and Wales.
		Total.	Number in a portion of the population of England and Wales equal to that of Ireland.
Persons apprehended for indictable offences not disposed of summarily, ...	9,214	30,410	8,219	995	–

The Dublin Metropolitan Police district appears, from these statistics, to be unfavourably circumstanced as regards the rest of Ireland, and as compared with England and Wales. The diversity which occurred in making the returns makes it difficult to compare the details so far as indictable offences are concerned, so as to explain the causes of difference with accuracy.

Nature of Crimes Committed.

With regard to the comparison between the rest of Ireland and England and Wales, the following table exhibits the classes of offences in which the difference exists.

NATURE OF CRIMES COMMITTED IN 1863.	IRELAND, exclusive of Dublin Metropolitan Police District.	ENGLAND AND WALES.		Irish Offences out of Dublin, in excess of those in equal Population in England and Wales.	Irish Offences out of Dublin, less than those in equal Population in England and Wales.
		Total.	Number in a portion of the Population of England and Wales equal to that of Ireland.
No. 1. Offences against the person:—
Murder, attempts to murder, and shooting at, .	165	878	225	–	60
Manslaughter, ...	47	241	62	–	15
Assaults, and inflicting bodily harm, . . .	492	281	72	420	–
Immoral offences, ...	275	1,092	280	–	5
Assaults, ...	1,187	474	121	1,066	–
Total, ...	2,166	2,966	760
No. 2. Offences against property, with violence,	569	5,433	1,393	–	824
No. 3. Offences against property, without violence,	2,807	39,912	10,234	–	7,427
No. 4. Malicious offences against property, .	892	762	196	696	–
No. 5. Forgery, and offences against currency, .	73	1,869	479	–	406
No. 6. Offences not included in the above classes,	767	1,269	325	442	–
Total offences, ...	7,274	52,211	13,387

This table indicates that the greatest excess in Ireland is in assaults, in malicious offences against property, and in assaults with intent to do bodily harm.

Disposal of persons apprehended.

The tables show the disposal of persons apprehended, and the following is the result as to persons apprehended for indictable offences, and not disposed of summarily in 1863.

	Males.	Females.	Total.
Committed for Trial, ...	1,845	856	2,701
Committed for want of Sureties, . .	172	142	314
Bailed for Trial, ...	2,299	371	2,670
Bailed, ...	317	51	368
Discharged, ...	1,960	1,201	3,161
Total, ...	6,593	2,621	9,214

Offences determined summarily.

The tables of offences determined summarily give the following result:—

OFFENCES DETERMINED SUMMARILY, IN 1863.	IRELAND.	ENGLAND AND WALES.		Irish Offences in excess of those in equal Population in England and Wales.	Irish Offences less than those in equal Population in England and Wales.
		Total.	Number in a portion of the Population of England and Wales equal to that of Ireland.
Offences determined summarily, . . .	227,522	421,863	108,170	119,352	–

The contrast presented by this result with the returns of the police as to the number of the criminal classes, makes it important to trace what are the largest classes of offences determined summarily in Ireland.

LARGEST CLASSES OF OFFENCES DETERMINED SUMMARILY, 1863.	IRELAND.	ENGLAND AND WALES.		Irish Offences in excess of those in equal Population in England and Wales.	Irish Offences less than those in equal Population in England and Wales.
		Total.	Number in a portion of the Population of England and Wales equal to that of Ireland.
Drunkenness, and drunk and disorderly, .	60,646	94,745	25,607	35,039	–
Highway Act and Turnpike Acts, . . .	39,984	12,077	3,264	36,720	–
Common assaults, ...	27,897	70,533	19,063	8,834	–
Malicious and wilful damages and trespass, .	8,734	13,864	3,747	4,987	–
Nuisances Removal Acts, ...	7,998	708	191	7,807	–
Breaches of the peace, want of sureties, &c., .	7,350	10,620	2,870	4,480	–
Stage and Hackney Carriage Acts, . .	6,993	6,984	1,888	5,105	–
Offences not classed, ...	19,484	4,624	1,250	18,234	–
	179,086	214,155	57,880	121,206	–

With respect to the excess of convictions for drunkenness, the operation of the statute applicable to Ireland alone, 6 & 7 Wm. IV., c. 38, enabling Magistrates to fine to the extent of 5s., or to imprison for a period not exceeding 48 hours for mere drunkenness, should be taken into account.

As turnpikes have been abolished throughout Ireland, the whole of the offences under Highway Acts in Ireland are compared with offences under both Highway Acts and Turnpike Acts in England and Wales. They still, however, appear to be in great excess.

Of the 6,993 offences against the Stage and Hackney Carriage Acts, 6,264 were in the Dublin Metropolitan Police District alone. Of the 7,998 offences against the Nuisances Removal Acts, 3,063 were in the Dublin Metropolitan Police District. The other offences in which Ireland was in considerable excess, are assaults and malicious and wilful damage and trespass, offences of the same character as those appearing to be in excess in the indictable offences not determined summarily.

Result of proceedings (Table 10, p. 26).

The following table exhibits the result of the proceedings in cases determined summarily:—

	Males.	Females.	Total.
Total number proceeded against, . . .	186,690	40,643	227,333
„ convicted, ...	155,942	31,082	187,024

Thus it appears that in the case of offences determined summarily, the convictions were 82·2 per cent. of the persons proceeded against. This is a higher proportion of convictions than in England and Wales, where the per-centage of convictions is 67·2, whilst in the case of indictable offences not determined summarily, the convictions in Ireland bear a less proportion to the persons proceeded against than in England and Wales.*

CONSTABULARY AND POLICE.

Punishments.

The penalties imposed on those convicted, stated under the same classification as in the English statistics, were as follows:—

PUNISHMENTS FOR OFFENCES DETERMINED SUMMARILY, IN 1863.	Number of Cases.	Proportion per cent. Ireland.	Corresponding proportion per cent. for England and Wales.
Imprisoned above 6 months, ...	33	0·02	0·03
„ 6 months and above 3 months, . .	254	0·13	1·01
„ 3 months and above 2 months, . .	1,113	0·60	2·92
„ 2 months and above 1 month, . . .	1,794	0·96	4·18
„ 1 month and above 14 days, . . .	3,981	2·13	8·26
„ 14 days and under, ...	14,642	7·83	9·79
In reformatory schools, ...	139	0·07	0·34
In industrial schools, ...	–	–	0·8
Total committed, . . .	21,956	11·74	26·61
Fined, ...	141,169	78·70	60·64
Whipped, ...	21	0·01	0 14
Ordered to find sureties or to enter into recognizance, .	4,983	2·66	3·91
Delivered up to the Army or Navy, ...	289	0·16	0·64
Other punishments, ...	12,587	6·73	8·06
Total convicted, . . .	187,005	100·	100·

I have added the proportions of the different punishments, and the corresponding proportions in England and Wales. It appears from this table that the punishments of a trifling character bear a higher proportion in Ireland to the total punishments than in England and Wales, whilst the proportional number of serious punishments is much less in Ireland; corroborating the view already stated, that a large part of the excess in the case of offences determined summarily in Ireland, is to be found amongst the offences of a less serious character.

Character of the accused (Table 11, p. 27).

Returns were obtained from the Constabulary of Ireland as to the character of the accused, but one or two of the returns are incomplete. The Dublin Metropolitan Police were unable to give the return of the characters of the accused which was asked for. Under these circumstances, the table, being incomplete, has not been added up.

Appeals from Magistrates (Table, p. 67).

Instead of the form of return contained in the English statistics under the head, "Appeals from Magistrates," these appeals have been given in this volume among the criminal proceedings, in a table showing the proceedings of the Courts of Quarter Sessions.

Coroners' Returns (Table 12, p. 32).

Returns have been obtained from the Coroners, and they show the number of inquests to have been as follows:—2,031 on males; and 891 on females. Total number of inquests, 2,922. In England and Wales the number was 15,770 males, and 6,987 females, or 22,757 in all. This would give the proportion to be expected in Ireland as 6,150, showing that the inquests in Ireland are not one-half the number to be found in an equal population in England and Wales.

Some of the Coroners' returns are incomplete as to the ages of the deceased, and as to the finding of the jury, and the totals of these particulars have therefore not been given.

The return shows the cost of the inquests to be £7,486 3*s.* 4½*d.*, and the average cost of each inquest to be £2 11*s.* 3*d.*, whilst the average cost of an inquest in England and Wales is £3 2*s.* 4¾*d.*

CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS.

CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS.

Costs of Prosecutions (Table 1, p. 37).

An account of the sums paid by Her Majesty's Treasury for criminal prosecutions at Assizes and Quarter Sessions, and proceedings at Petty Sessions, inquests, and Police Courts, has been made up from returns received from Crown Solicitors in Ireland, and from County and City Treasurers. The Crown Solicitors' returns show the number of prosecutions and the costs, exclusive of prosecutors' and witnesses' expenses paid through County Treasurers. The latter expense, and the number of prosecutors and witnesses paid, have been ascertained from the County and City Treasurers.

The following gives a summary of the results of the table:—

COURTS.	Number of Cases.	Costs.	Average Cost, each Case.
		£ s. d.	£ s. d.
Circuit Assize Court,	907	43,720 9 10½	48 4 0½
Dublin Commission Court,	104	2,961 6 9	28 9 5
Quarter Sessions,	3,199	13,399 7 4	4 3 9½
Total on Indictment,	4,210	60,081 3 11½	14 5 5
Petty Sessions, Inquests, and Police Courts,	36	539 17 10	15 0 0

The arrangements for conducting Criminal prosecutions in Ireland and in England and Wales being very different, the costs cannot be readily compared.

Criminal tables for Ireland have been compiled and presented to Parliament for many years. The origin of the Irish Criminal Tables is explained in a note,* giving the information I have obtained on the subject. The forms in use differ in some slight respects from those used for the English statistics.

In order to prepare with facility Tables of Criminal Proceedings for this volume, it was decided to continue, for the present, the collection of the information required for the Irish Criminal Tables from the Local Inspectors of Gaols, and from the returns of the Clerks of the Crown and Clerks of the Peace, under statute 7 Geo. IV., c. 74, s. 67, as heretofore; and to adopt so many of the tables, compiled in the usual way, as would correspond with the Tables of Criminal Proceedings published in the English volume.

Commitments (Table 8, pp. 56–7).

A large addition to the number of the offences treated as distinct was introduced, by the advice of the Law Adviser to the Irish Government, into the Irish Tables of 1862, after the Consolidated Criminal Statutes had come into operation; these I have marked on Table 7, pp. 52–4, and distinguished by a broad line the figures before and after the change was introduced, so as to guard against any mistake in comparing the statistics

* NOTE.—The Act 56 Geo. III., c. 120, required the Clerks of the Crown and Peace in Ireland to make annual returns of the criminal proceedings at assizes and quarter sessions to be laid before Parliament. This enactment, however, appears to have been neglected in practice, the first of these returns having been printed only in 1831, and being very defective. From 1835 to the present time there is, with some interruptions, a continuous series of them, but they have not been printed since 1854.

The first report of the Inspectors-General of Prisons in Ireland was printed in 1823, with an appendix containing returns of the number of persons charged with crime in Ireland, and the results of the proceedings against them. The number of crimes specified was 65: they were not classified, but arranged alphabetically. Similar returns were appended to the reports of the Inspectors-General in subsequent years to 1835 inclusive, each of the later returns giving a comparative view of the crime of the seven preceding years.

In 1835 the first annual criminal returns for England and Wales were printed, classified in the same manner as at present.

In 1836 the returns appended to the report of the Inspectors-General of Prisons in Ireland were printed in the same form as those for England and Wales. The number of committals appearing in these returns in 1836, however, was so greatly in excess of the number which might have been expected from comparison with the English returns, that inquiry was made as to the cause of the excess, and it was found that the summary convictions had always been included in the Irish returns, while the English only included the cases sent to assizes and quarter sessions. In the returns of 1838 and subsequent years, the summary convictions were excluded from the detailed returns, but an abstract was given showing their number for each county. Instead of this summary the proceedings at petty sessions are given in the present volume.

CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS.

as to particular offences before and after the change. The change, however, does not affect the total number of offences of all classes.

The total number of persons committed or bailed for trial at assizes and quarter sessions since 1851, when the number stood at a maximum, is as follows:—

		Increase.	Decrease.
1851,	24,684	–	–
1852,	17,678	–	7,006
1853,	15,144	–	2,534
1854,	11,788	–	3,356
1855,	9,012	–	2,776
1856,	7,099	–	1,913
1857,	7,210	–	889
1858,	6,308	–	902
1859,	5,865	–	443
1860,	5,386	–	479
1861,	5,586	200	–
1862,	6,666	1,080	–
1863,	6,078	–	588

The increase in the number of persons sent for trial at assizes and quarter sessions in 1861 and 1862, over those so dealt with in the year 1860, presents a remarkable contrast to the great and progressive decrease from 1851. It was owing, no doubt, to the very unfavourable character of those two years, whilst the abundant produce of last year, diminishing the pressure on the poor in the latter half of 1863, produced the satisfactory change indicated.

State of each class of Commitments (Table 6, p. 45).

The nature of the difference of the offences in 1863 and 1862 is indicated by the following table:—

CLASSES OF OFFENCES.	1863.	1862.	Increase, 1863.	Decrease, 1863.
1. Offences against the person,	1,871	2,128	–	257
2. Do. do. property, with violence,	431	433	–	2
3. Do. do. property, without violence,	2,228	2,493	–	265
4. Malicious offences against property,	148	136	12	–
5. Forgeries and offences against the currency,	81	108	–	27
6. Offences not included in the above classes,	1,319	1,368	–	49

An unfavourable symptom shown by this table is the increase of malicious offences against property; the increase is, however, only 9 per cent. on the numbers of the previous year, but it followed an increase in 1862 of 151 per cent., viz., from 54 to 136.

The increase of "malicious offences against property" took place under the head of setting fire to dwelling-houses, persons being therein; and attacking and injuring dwelling-houses and land. The former increased from 7 in 1862, to 24 in 1863; 12 of the offenders having been returned for trial for this crime in the city of Dublin. These offenders were chiefly disorderly inmates, committed for setting fire to workhouses. The attacking of dwelling-houses increased from 13 to 26. Other cases of burning decreased, as did the offence of riot attended with the destruction of buildings or machinery.

The decrease in the number of offences against the person in 1863, as compared with 1862, took place in some of the graver, as well as the lesser crimes included in that class. Thus the number of persons for trial for murder decreased from 41 to 22; for manslaughter from 90 to 65; for assaults on peace officers in the execution of their duty, from 226 to 81; the more unfavourable facts are the increase in sending letters threatening to murder from 10 to 22, and the increase in cases of shooting at, stabbing, and wounding from 65 to 107.

In the second class, "offences against property, committed with violence," while the number of the offenders are the same in the two years, the character of the offences are different. Thus burglary decreased from 117 to 101; housebreaking from 54 to 38; and robbery decreased from 95 to 62—all offences likely to diminish on a change from a very unfavourable year like 1862, to a better one like 1863. On the other hand the pressure on farmers still continuing, the offence of taking and holding forcible possession increased from 83 in 1862 to 135 in 1863.

CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS.

The decrease in the third class of "offences against property, committed without violence," was very general; but the diminution in sheep-stealing, 16, was more than counterbalanced by an increase in horse-stealing and cattle-stealing.

The decrease of offenders in the fifth class, "forgery, and offences against the currency," occurred principally in the number charged for having and uttering counterfeit coin.

The sixth class includes some very important offences. It is satisfactory to observe that offences connected with combinations or conspiracies to raise the rate of wages, which were at the small number of 15 in 1862, entirely disappeared in 1863. Assembling armed unlawfully, decreased from 28 to 11; and riot, breach of the peace, and pound breach, decreased from 584 to 441. On the other hand, there were 2 cases of sedition, there having been none in 1862. The offences against the Party Processions and Party Emblems Acts increased from 17 to 33. Rescue, and refusing to aid peace officers, and rescuing prisoners, both increased, the former from 384 to 554; the latter from 19 to 28.

Result of Proceedings (Table 2, p. 39).

The following were the results of the proceedings at assizes and quarter sessions in each of the two years:—

Convictions (Table 2, p. 39).

The following table shows the number convicted, not convicted, and their per centages to the whole in each of the years from 1851 to 1863.

1863,	3,285	2,793	6,078	54·04	45·96

The proportion of acquitted and discharged in 1863 to those placed on trial is 45·96 per cent., a much higher rate than in England and Wales, where the proportion of the acquitted and discharged amounted to but 23·5 per cent. It is also higher than in the different years in Ireland since 1851, except the years 1858 and 1859.

The sentences in 1863 are shown in the following table in detail, and in comparison with the sentences for each of the nine preceding years.

Capital Convictions.

The 4 persons sentenced to death in 1863 were executed, while of the 6 death-sentences in 1862 two were commuted to penal servitude for life.

The following are the particulars of the cases of those who were executed in 1863:—

Antrim.—Daniel Ward, aged 23, a labourer; murder of his companion by a blow of a stone in a handkerchief, and then throwing the body in a river—for a watch.

Limerick County.—Daniel Dillane, aged 54, farmer; accessory to murder by hiring the murderers of a gentleman, on account of a dispute between landlord and tenant.

Longford County.—Charles MacCormack, aged 24; murder of a young man in the presence of his father, for giving evidence at a trial.

Wexford.—Joseph Kelly; murder arising from a dispute about the disposal of the purchase money of land.

In addition to the information in the English tables of criminal proceedings, the Irish Criminal Tables contain details as to the ages and state of instruction of the persons for trial.

Ages of persons for trial (Table 3, p. 40).

The ages of the persons for trial at assizes and quarter sessions referred to in the Criminal Tables for 1863 are thus compared with the ages of those in the Irish Criminal Tables of 1862:—

The following tables exhibit the result of the information collected under the head of State of Instruction of Persons for Trial, and bring up to the present time some of the information which has for many years been given in the Irish Criminal Tables :—

The sexes of those committed or bailed for trial at assizes and quarter sessions, in 1862 and 1863, and their state of instruction, are given in the following table :—

—	Year.	Total Committed or Bailed.	Who could Read and Write.		Who could Read only.		Who could neither Read nor Write.		Whose state of Instruction could not be ascertained.

	1863,	1,411	232	16·44	259	18·36	699	49·54	221	15·66

It appears from this that while the proportion of males who were ascertained to be incapable of either reading or writing was 27·30 per cent., the number of females in a similar position was 49·54 per cent.

Number for trial at assizes and quarter sessions in the different counties in 1862 and 1863 compared (Table 6, p. 44, &c.)

The number of persons for trial at assizes and quarter sessions being less in 1863 than in 1862, it is of importance to trace whether this diminution was general or local. For this purpose the following summary has been compiled.

It appears that the improvement in 1863, as shown by the small number of persons for trial, extended to every province, being greatest in Leinster and least in Ulster. In some of the counties, as Tyrone, Londonderry, the South Riding of Tipperary, Kerry, and King's County, the number of criminals increased in 1863.

CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS.

Petty Sessions (Table, p. 59).

The existence of such a large staff as 72 Resident or Stipendiary Magistrates, appointed under the 6th of Wm. IV., c. 13, the more important part of whose duty is to attend the courts of petty sessions, places the statistics of these courts in Ireland, 607 in number, in the same position as that of the tribunals where the duties are discharged wholly or in part by paid public officers.

The following table shows that a very large proportion of the criminal cases in Ireland are disposed of by magistrates at petty sessions and police courts under the several Summary Jurisdiction Acts.

Year.	Number of Sentences, as shown by Gaol Returns, exclusive of Dangerous Lunatics, Military and Naval Offenders, and Drunkards.	Number of Sentences on Summary Conviction, included in foregoing.	Proportion per cent. of Sentences on Summary Conviction.

1862	19,335	16,550	85

These Courts, too, exercise civil jurisdiction in certain cases—a jurisdiction of more importance since the abolition of manor courts in Ireland.

The statistics of the Petty Sessions Courts in Ireland have been regularly collected by means of quarterly returns made by the Clerks of Petty Sessions to the office of the Chief Secretary of the Lord Lieutenant, but have not hitherto been published.

The following are the results which have been ascertained from these returns for the year 1863 :—

The amount of fees and of fines and penalties are given in many of the returns, but are not sufficiently complete to admit of the totals being given.

Quarter Sessions Courts. Appeals from Magistrates, Spirit Licences, Indictments (Table, p. 67).

The Court of Quarter Sessions in Ireland being presided over by the Chairman of the County, or Irish County Court Judge, a table has been introduced showing the appeals from magistrates—which are given in another form in the English statistics—the applications for spirit licences, and the disposal of bills of indictment.

There were in 1863 :—

The Court for the consideration of Crown cases reserved, constituted by 11 and 12 Vic., c. 78, corresponds to the Court of Criminal Appeal in England. There were only two appeals before it in 1863.

PRISONS.

PRISONS.

Very complete statistics of the county and borough prisons in Ireland being collected annually by the Inspectors-General of Prisons in Ireland and annexed to their reports, it was not deemed expedient to attempt to collect for the present volume parallel information by distinct returns. The only distinct returns obtained were from the War Office, the Secretary of the Admiralty, and the Commissioners of Inland Revenue ; and they give the proportion of expenses paid by the Customs for revenue prisoners, and by the Admiralty for navy prisoners. The sums paid for military prisoners are not given, the War Office accounts not being classified so as to exhibit the details required.

Costs of Prisons (Table 1, p. 71).

The total expenses of county and borough gaols in Ireland in 1863 was £83,110 8*s.* 2½*d.* These expenses were defrayed from the following sources :—

Prisons.

Commitments (Table 2, p. 72).

Table 2 gives the number of commitments to county and borough prisons in Ireland in 1863, not including debtors or committals on civil process, as

Males,	19,276
Females,	14,664
Total,	33,940

An important distinction, however, is to be made between the number of commitments and the number of individuals committed, as the same person may be committed oftener than once within the year; and the table indicates accordingly that the number of individuals committed were only—

Males,	17,290
Females,	9,347
Total,	26,637

The following table shows the number of prisoners committed to the several county and borough prisons in Ireland, in 1863, distinguishing the sexes and crimes, with the proportion per cent. of each class to the whole.

This table is somewhat fuller than the corresponding English table. It indicates that in Ireland, as in England, a very large proportion of offenders are disposed of summarily.

Re-committals (Table 3, p. 74)

Table 3 shows the number of individuals committed to county and borough prisons during the year 1863, and the number of them who had been in gaol previously once, twice, thrice, &c.

The statistics of the Inspectors-General in Ireland as to previous commitments are not given in precisely the same way as in England. In Ireland the number of commitments to the end of the current year is given, and in England the number of re-commitments previously undergone, so that a person who had been twice committed is included in the category once re-committed. I have, however, arranged the table so as to admit of ready comparison with the former statistics in Ireland and with the statistics in England.

Individuals Committed.	Males.	Females.	Total.	Proportion per cent. to Total Committed.
Once only,	13,227	5,297	18,524	69·6
Twice, or once previously,	1,871	1,033	2,904	10·9
Thrice, or twice previously,	790	587	1,377	5·2

Ages of those committed (Table 4, p. 75).

Table 4 of the prison returns shows the ages and sexes of prisoners and their religious professions. The divisions of ages adopted in the statistics of the Inspectors-General in Ireland are different from those in the Judicial Statistics in England. The following gives a summary of table 4, with the proportion per cent. of the prisoners at different age-periods to the total number.

Ages.	Males.	Females.	Total.	Proportion per cent.
10 years and under,	68	26	94	·1
Above 10 and not exceeding 16,	1,006	231	1,237	3·7
" 16 " 21,	4,671	2,837	7,508	22·2
" 21 " 31,	7,256	6,639	13,895	40·8
" 31 " 41,	3,070	2,751	5,821	17·2
Exceeding 41,	3,019	2,134	5,153	15·2
Ages not ascertained,	186	46	232	·8
Total,	19,276	14,664	33,940	100·

From the different way in which the ages are divided it is not easy to compare the proportions of ages in Ireland and in England; but with regard to the proportion of sexes, it is remarkable that the proportion of males to females in Ireland (including military and naval) is 19,276 males to 14,664 females, or as 6 to 4; whilst in England the proportion is 95,040 males to 34,487 females, or 7 to 3.

Large proportion of criminality amongst Irish in England and Wales as compared with Irish in Ireland.

In the English statistics, along with the table of ages and sexes, are added some statistics of the birthplace of the prisoners; similar information has not hitherto been collected by the Inspectors-General in Ireland. Instead of this information I have added the religious professions of the prisoners, as shown in the tables of the Inspectors-General. In the English tables it is stated that there were committed to the different county and borough prisons in England and Wales in 1863 (without including military and naval prisoners), offenders of Irish birth amounting to 19,501; these numbers are very remarkable when compared with the 54,995 total committals to gaols and bridewells in Ireland (including military and naval prisoners). There were in 1861, as ascertained by the Census Commissioners, 800,000 persons of Irish birth then in Great Britain. Besides that number, which probably increased since, the annual migration of harvest labourers, which was estimated in 1862 at 28,695, is to be added; deducting for the numbers in Scotland, and adding for travellers and visiters, the number of persons of Irish birth in England and Wales in 1863, may be estimated at less than 800,000, or about one-seventh of the population of Ireland; but one-seventh of the committals in Ireland would be, in 1863, 7,856. It would thus appear that the committals amongst 800,000 Irishmen in England and Wales were nearly two and a half times greater than the number of committals amongst the same number of Irishmen at home.

Religious professions of persons committed (Table 5, p. 75).

The religious professions of the prisoners appear to be in the following proportions:—

RELIGIOUS PROFESSIONS.	Males.	Females.	Total.	Proportion per cent.
Established Church,	1,817	1,695	3,512	10·4
Presbyterian,	581	301	882	2·6
Roman Catholic,	16,640	12,623	29,263	86·2
Not ascertained,	238	45	283	·8
Total,	19,276	14,664	33,940	100·

State of education of persons committed (Table 5, p. 76).

The following table shows the state of education, on committal, of the several persons committed, as follows:—

STATE OF EDUCATION.	Males.	Females.	Total.	Proportion per cent.
Wholly illiterate,	6,558	7,500	14,058	41·4
Knew alphabet,	916	429	1,345	4·
Knew spelling,	747	455	1,202	3·5
Read imperfectly,	3,384	3,808	7,192	21·2
Read and wrote,	7,445	2,399	9,844	29·
Not ascertained,	226	73	299	·9
Total,	19,276	14,664	33,940	100·

In addition to the state of education of the prisoners, the classes of their occupations are given in the English statistics; this is not included in the tables of the Inspectors-General of Prisons, and so not given in these tables.

I have added columns, showing the number of individuals who attended each of the gaol schools, and the number of teachers. There attended the schools in the county and borough prisons in 1863—

	Total Number.	Average Daily Number of Pupils.
Males,	5,386	633
Females,	2,192	284
Total,	7,578	917

The number of teachers were 49 males and 31 females, making 80 in all.

Capacity of the Prisons.

Table 6 shows the state and condition of the county and borough prisons as to capacity, the health of the prisoners, and the punishments for prison offences:—

In addition to tables corresponding to the English statistics, the Inspectors-General give the statistics of 112 bridewells (including two district bridewells and three bridewells certified under 19 and 20 Vic., c. 68, s. xxvi.) in Ireland, which are necessary to a complete view of the Irish prison system.

The number of committals to and costs of bridewells in the year 1863, are as follows:—

REFORMATORY SCHOOLS.

(Tables 1–3, pp. 86–7.)

The Inspector of Reformatory Schools has made returns in forms somewhat similar to those in the English Judicial statistics.

There are 4 reformatory schools for boys, and 5 for girls in Ireland. Of these, 3 are for Protestants—2 for boys and 1 for girls; and 6 for Roman Catholics—2 for boys and 4 for girls. The total number committed in 1863, were 153. Of these, 113 were boys and 40 girls; 132 were Roman Catholics, and 21 Protestants.

Terms of detention.

The terms of detention of the offenders committed in 1863, were as follow:—

Previous imprisonment—
14 days, ...	80
1 month and above 14 days, . .	61
2 months and above 1 month, . .	9
4 months and above 2 months, . .	3
Above 4 months, ...	–
	153

Subsequent detention in reformatories—
2 years, ...	2
3 years, ...	15
4 years, ...	32
	153

Forty of these offenders, or 26 per cent. of the entire number, were committed on indictment before Judges of the Superior Courts, the Chairmen of Quarter Sessions, and the Recorder of Dublin; and 113, or 74 per cent. were committed on summary conviction before Justices.

REFORMATORY SCHOOLS.

Ages and instruction.

STATE OF INSTRUCTION.	Aged 10 and under.	11.	12.	13.	14.	15.	16.	Total.
Neither read nor write,	3	8	9	9	10	16	5	60

Instruction not ascertained,	–	–	–	–	3	3	–	6
Total,	3	8	13	20	26	56	27	153

Position as regards parental control.

The great effect of the loss of parental control and support in producing youthful criminals, is shown by the following statistics given in the returns:—

	One only.	Both.	Total.
Parents dead,	36	33	69
Deserted by parents,	14	12	26
Parents in prison,	16	7	23
Otherwise uncontrolled by parents,	6	5	11
Under parental control,	10	14	24
Total,	82	71	153

It thus appears that only 14 of the whole number were under control of both parents, whilst no less than 33 were total orphans.

Industrial schools.

In Ireland there are no Industrial Schools, the Statutes establishing them in England not having been yet extended to this country.

It appears from the police returns that the class for whose benefit Industrial Schools are intended is proportionally more numerous in Ireland than in England, the 3,399 vagrants and tramps in Ireland under 16 years of age, in 1863, being 1,424 in excess of 1,975, the number to be found in an equal population in England and Wales.

CRIMINAL LUNATICS.

(Tables 1–6, pp. 87–90). State of the asylums—gaols.

Returns have been obtained through the Inspectors of Lunatic Asylums from the Governors of Gaols, and from the Superintendents of asylums, as to the lunatics therein.

The number in these respective institutions and their disposal in the year 1863 were as follows :—

CRIMINAL LUNATICS.	ASYLUMS.			GAOLS.			Total Asylums and Gaols.

These numbers are remarkable as compared with the numbers in England. There were under detention at the end of 1863 in England and Wales 929, which gives 251 as the proportional number for the population in Ireland, whilst the actual numbers under detention in Ireland were 755.

CRIMINAL LUNATICS.

In England too they appear to be all in asylums or licensed houses, whilst in Ireland a large number are in the county gaols.

Offences,

The offences for which lunatics under detention during the year were charged are fully shown in the returns.

The offences for which the largest numbers were detained in the gaols were, for assault, 360, or 60·5 per cent.; for being dangerous persons at large, 67, or 11·2 per cent.; and for attempts at murder, 43, or 7·2 per cent. In the asylums the offences for which the largest numbers were detained were, for being dangerous persons at large, 192, or 29·7 per cent.; and for assaults, 105, or 16·2 per cent.

In England and Wales only 54, or 5 per cent., were detained for assault, and only 1 in 1,148 for being a dangerous person at large.

Judgments under which detained.

The original judgments or orders under which the lunatics in custody in 1863 were detained, with the proportion per cent. which the number under each bears to the whole, were as follows:—

I have added the corresponding proportions for England and Wales to show the very different orders under which the criminal lunatics are detained in the two countries.

Periods of detention.

The returns show for both gaols and asylums the number of persons under detention for each period. The proportion per cent. borne by each number to the whole is added for those in the gaols, and for those in the asylums, as follows:—

CONCLUSION.

The following is a summary of some of the principal results of the Irish Criminal Statistics noticed in the preceding Report:—

A favourable feature of these statistics is the decrease in the number of persons committed or bailed for trial at Assizes and Quarter Sessions, from 6,666 in 1862, to 6,078 in 1863.

---

* By Secretary of State in England.

Conclusion.

A decrease took place in the following crimes:—Murder, from 41 to 22; manslaughter, from 90 to 65; burglary, from 117 to 101; housebreaking, from 54 to 38; robbery, from 95 to 62; assembling armed unlawfully, from 28 to 11.

As respects the conduct of the labouring classes, it is satisfactory to observe, that whilst offences connected with combinations or conspiracies to raise the rate of wages were at the small number of 15 in 1862, there were no persons tried at the Assizes or Quarter Sessions for these offences in 1863.

An unfavourable feature in the Irish Criminal Statistics of 1863, is the increase of the following offences:—Sending letters threatening to murder, from 10 to 22; shooting at, stabbing, and wounding, from 65 to 107; taking and holding forcible possession of land, from 83 to 135; attacking and injuring dwelling-houses and lands, from 13 to 26. The special offence of setting fire to dwelling-houses, persons being therein, which is chiefly committed by disorderly inmates of workhouses, increased from 7 in 1862 to 24 in 1863.

It is satisfactory to find that Ireland, in 1863, has fewer criminal classes known to the police than is to be found in an equal population in England and Wales. Thus, the Irish criminal classes known to the police are 22,290, whilst in an equal population in England and Wales they are 34,090. The number of the criminal classes in confinement exhibits a no less satisfactory result. Thus, there were in Ireland in 1863, in local prisons (exclusive of debtors), 2,803, in convict prisons, 1,768, and in reformatories, 591, or 5,162 in all; whilst in an equal population in England and Wales there were 4,854 in local prisons, 2,167 in convict prisons, and 883 in reformatories, or 7,904 in all.

A favourable feature in the statistics of the criminal classes in Ireland is the small amount of prostitution—the number of prostitutes being 3,465—whilst there are in an equal population in England and Wales, 7,783. The number of brothels or houses of ill-fame are, in Ireland, 657, and in an equal population of England and Wales, 1,947.

An unfavourable feature in the statistics of the Irish criminal classes are the vagrants and tramps under 16 years of age, which were in 1863, 3,399, as compared with 1,975, to be found in an equal population in England and Wales.

Whilst the number of the criminal classes is so much less in Ireland than in England and Wales, the number of offences committed is greater. This greater number, however, is made up mainly of offences of a less serious character. Thus the number of offences determined summarily in Ireland, in 1863, was 227,522, whilst the corresponding number, in an equal population in England and Wales, was 108,170: this gives an excess of 119,352 in the Irish offences. The heads under which this excess chiefly occurred are, drunkenness, and drunk and disorderly, 35,039; Highway Acts, 36,720; common assaults, 8,834; Nuisance Removal Acts, 7,807; Stage and Hackney Carriage Acts, 5,105; malicious and wilful damage and trespass, 4,987; breaches of the peace and want of sureties, 4,480; and offences not classified, 18,234: these heads make a total of 121,206, more than accounting for the excess. The punishments inflicted upon those convicted summarily indicates that the excess in Ireland was amongst offences of a less serious character than in England and Wales; thus, of 187,005 persons convicted in Ireland, 141,169 were fined, and only 287 got more than three months' imprisonment, and only 21 were whipped. In England and Wales, of those convicted there were fourteen times as many as in Ireland sentenced to whipping, seven times as many imprisoned above three months, five times as many sent to Reformatory Schools, and four times as many imprisoned for upwards of fourteen days.

It appears that in the entire of Ireland, exclusive of the Dublin Metropolitan Police District, there were 7,274 of the more serious offences, that is, indictable offences not determined summarily, committed in 1863, as compared with 13,387 in an equal population in England and Wales.

CONCLUSION.

A favourable feature of the statistics of crimes committed in Ireland (outside the Dublin Metropolitan Police District), is the small number of the following crimes:—murder, attempts to murder, and shooting at, 165, whilst the corresponding English proportion is 225; manslaughter 47, as compared with 62, the English proportion; offences against property, with violence, 569, as compared with 1,393, the English proportion; and offences against property, without violence, 2,807, as compared with 10,234, the English proportion. The unfavourable features of the criminal statistics of Ireland (outside Dublin) are malicious offences against property 892, as compared with 196, the English proportion; assaults with intent to do bodily harm 492, as compared with 72, the English proportion; and assaults 1,187, as compared with 121, the English proportion.

Another favourable feature of the statistics for Ireland is the small number of inquests, 2,929, whilst the number in an equal population in England and Wales was 6,150.

In connexion with the smaller number of the more serious crimes in Ireland, and especially of crimes against property, with or without violence, and the smaller number of the criminal classes in Ireland than in England and Wales, the proportion of police to population is important to notice. The average proportion of police to population in Ireland is 1 to 417, whilst in England and Wales it is 1 to 887. The greatest police force is in the North Riding of the County of Tipperary, where it is 1 to 195. The greatest proportion in England and Wales is at Hove in Sussex, where it is 1 to 418. The lowest proportion of police to population in Ireland is in the County of Londonderry, where it is 1 to 1,000. The highest proportion in any county in England is in the Island of Ely, where it is 1 to 1,063, and the lowest in Rutlandshire, where it is 1 to 2,733. In the borough of St. Ives, in Cornwall, the proportion of police to population is as low as 1 to 7,027.

The cost of the police in Ireland is £780,111 12*s.* 4*d.*, or 2*s.* 8¼*d.* per head of population, of which 9 per cent., or 2¾*d.*, is paid from the local taxes, and 91 per cent., or 2*s.* 5½*d.*, from the general taxes. The cost of the police in England and Wales is £1,658,265 14*s.* 5*d.*, or 1*s.* 7¾*d.* per head of population, of which 76 per cent., or 1*s.* 3*d.*, is paid from local taxes, and 24 per cent., or 4¾*d.*, from the general taxes.

A point of importance in connexion with the great excess in Ireland of juvenile vagrants and tramps under 16 years of age, is the absence of Industrial Schools in Ireland. There were 1,339 children in the English Industrial Schools in 1863.

Another point similarly suggested is the large number of persons confined as criminal lunatics in Ireland, 755, compared with 251, the number so confined amongst an equal population in England and Wales. The very different nature of the offences for which they appear to have been confined is also observable—90 per cent. of the committals in Ireland being by Justices, while in England and Wales only 8 per cent. are committals by Justices; and in Ireland only 1 per cent. are convicts who have become insane after trial, and have been removed by order of the Lord Lieutenant, while in England and Wales 62 per cent. are convicts who have become insane after trial, and have been removed by order of the Secretary of State.

JUDICIAL STATISTICS.

PART II.

IRELAND.

COMMON LAW—EQUITY—CIVIL AND CANON LAW.

Compiled by Order of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland,

COMPRISING

The Superior Courts of Common Law, the Courts of the Chairmen of Counties and Recorders, and other Courts for the Recovery of Small Debts.

The High Court of Chancery, the Landed Estates Court, the Court of Probate, the Ecclesiastical Courts, the High Court of Admiralty, the Court of Bankruptcy and Insolvency.

The Courts of Appeal, viz.—the House of Lords, the Privy Council, Ireland, the Court of Appeal in Chancery, the Exchequer Chamber, and the High Court of Delegates.

PART II.

INTRODUCTORY AND EXPLANATORY OBSERVATIONS.

THE return of the proceedings of the Court of Queen's Bench at the Crown side has been prepared by the principal officer in the Crown office. It corresponds with the English form, but headings have been added for the fiscal jurisdiction, peculiar to the Irish Court, of fiating the Presentments of the Grand Jury of the County of Dublin, and of the Town Council of the City of Dublin, in whom the powers of taxation, formerly exercised by the Grand Jury of the County of the City of Dublin, are now vested. In connexion with these fiscal powers, there are heads added for Claims for Malicious Injuries and for Road Traverses, and also for Railway Traverses, under the Railways (Ireland) Act, 1851. The practice on the Crown side of the Queen's Bench in Ireland, although founded on the English practice, has not undergone the same reforms in recent times, the powers given to the Judges in England in 1843, by Stat. 6 & 7 Vic., c. 20, s. 11, to make orders for regulating the practice, not having been as yet extended to Ireland.

The proceedings of the superior Courts of Common Law are arranged in a series of tables in a uniform plan for each Court, comprising—

Returns by the Masters as to the business in their offices. Returns by the Clerks of the Rules as to proceedings in Banco, in the Rules Office, before a single Judge at morning sittings in Term, and at Chamber sittings out of Term.

Returns of the proceedings at Nisi Prius before the Chief Judges of the Common Law Courts.

Returns of the proceedings common to the superior courts, viz.:—Proceedings of the Consolidated Nisi Prius Court, and before extra Judges at after sittings; the Consolidated Writ and Seal Office; the Registration of Judgments Office, and the Common Law Taxing Office.

In addition to these there are special tables for the business peculiar to each Court, as the Registration of Bills of Sale in the Queen's Bench, the Acknowledgments of Deeds by Married Women in the Common Pleas, and the Revenue business in the Exchequer.

The difference of practice and procedure between the English and Irish Courts, and the different arrangements of the official establishments, have made it necessary to deviate considerably from the forms of return adopted in England.

The Writs in Ireland are issued from the Consolidated Writ Office by twenty-fives for each Court in rotation. In England they are issued from the Masters' offices of each Court, and the number issued depends on the option of the suitors. In Ireland the Writ, called a Writ of Summons and Plaint, is equivalent to the Writ and Declaration in England; it contains a statement of the plaintiff's cause of action, and calls on the defendant to appear, and the defendant appears and defends together; while in England, the first proceeding is a Writ of Summons calling on the defendant to appear, and when the defendant appears the plaintiff declares his cause of action, to which the defendant pleads, and so on.

In Ireland the Summons and Plaint and the defences are filed; in England appearances are entered, but the pleadings are rarely filed.

In Ireland there is one Taxing Office for the three Courts; in England costs are taxed by the Masters of each Court.

In Ireland there is only one Master for each Court, and he never sits in Court and never taxes costs; on the other hand, he hears Writs of Inquiry to assess damages, which in England are sped before the Sheriff.

In Ireland the Clerk of the Rules has charge of the Court business in Banco, and also charge of the business at the morning sittings of a single Judge in Term, and at the sittings of the Consolidated Chamber Court out of Term. The Judges in Ireland have no Chamber clerks as in England. The Consolidated Nisi Prius Court, in which one puisne Judge sits for Nisi Prius trials during Term for the three Courts, is peculiar to Ireland.

In England there are five Judges in each of the superior Courts, and as only four can sit in Banco, the extra Judge of each Court sits for Nisi Prius trials during Term, allowing three Courts to be in operation at the same time instead of one only, as in Ireland.

At the Consolidated Nisi Prius Court are heard the appeals from the Recorder of the City of Dublin, and from the Chairman of the County of Dublin. These appeals are really rehearings, and unlike the appeals from the County Courts in England to a single Judge, which are only law arguments.

The returns from the superior Courts of Common Law are complete with one exception—Tables No. 6 and No. 7, by the Registrar of the Lord Chief Baron—the Registrar not having acted during the entire year, and not having the materials for giving the particulars required.

The proceedings on Circuit are contained in four tables; the first three correspond to the English tables; some returns, however, are wanting to make them complete. The business transacted before ten of the twelve Judges has been obtained, but owing to the death of a Judge's Registrar, and to the fact of another not having materials to supply the information, the returns are so far incomplete.

The fourth table contains Circuit business peculiar to Ireland, appeals or rehearings of cases from the Chairmen of Counties and Recorders, which are heard before Judges of Assize on Circuit in Ireland; whilst in England, the appeals on points of law from the County Courts Judges, are heard before a single Judge of the superior Courts in London.

Again, the Judges on Circuit in Ireland fiat the presentments for the expenditure of the county rates by Grand Juries, called county cess, and hear traverses and objections to such presentments formally argued. They also hear traverses to the awards of Railway Arbitrators, under the Railways (Ireland) Act, 1851. They also hear claims for malicious injuries. The returns of the proceedings as to these branches of Circuit business are (with one exception) complete.

The Manor Courts in Ireland have been abolished by Stat. 22 Vic., c. 14, and the Local Courts, other than the Petty Sessions and the Courts of Chairmen of Counties and Recorders, are limited to the Lord Mayor's Court and the several Courts of Conscience whose jurisdiction was preserved by the Municipal Corporation Reform Act. Returns are given of seven of these.

Returns as to the business in the Courts of Chairmen of Counties and of Recorders exercising similar jurisdiction, which correspond to the jurisdiction of the County Courts in England, have been received from all but one county. The particulars to make the returns comparable with the particulars given in the English returns could not, in all cases be supplied—the officers stating, as regards several of the particulars asked for, that no records had been kept; one entire county being wanting, and the returns from others being incomplete, it was not possible to make up a satisfactory table of the totals of the proceedings.

The Chairmen of Counties and Recorders in Ireland have some branches of jurisdiction which do not exist in England, such as appeals under the Towns Improvement (Ireland) Act, 1854, and proceedings under the Tenure and Improvement of Land (Ireland) Act, 1860. They have jurisdiction in respect of Grants of Probate and Letters of Administration, and also in hearing Insolvent petitions. On the other hand, they have no jurisdiction as to the protection of Deserted Wives similar to the County Court jurisdiction in England, under 20 and 21 Vic., c. 85.

The Returns of the Execution of Decrees from the Courts of Chairmen of Counties and the Recorders' Courts are very incomplete and unsatisfactory; but the subject has been dealt with by the Legislature during the present session of Parliament, and the Execution of Decrees for the future placed on such a footing that complete returns may be expected in future years.

The business of the High Court of Chancery in Ireland is contained in thirteen returns, which are nearly complete; only two out of three Masters of the Chancery Taxing Office, have made returns, and only two out of four Official Managers of Joint Stock Companies winding up under the Joint Stock Companies' Winding-up Acts.

The practice and procedure in Chancery in Ireland being different from the practice and procedure in England, and the constitution of the judicial and official establishments being also different, it was necessary to modify the English forms of return to suit the course of business in Ireland. Thus in Ireland an ordinary suit is in practice commenced by preferring a Cause Petition verified by affidavit; the respondent's appearance is entered in the office of the Clerk of Appearances and Writs, and all objections and answers to the Cause Petition are made by the respondent in an answering affidavit; both the Cause Petition and the answering affidavit are filed in the Rolls Office. In England an ordinary suit is commenced by a Bill or Information, which is printed and filed in the Record and Writ Office, where also the defendant's appearance is entered; the plaintiff also frequently files interrogatories, which he can do as of right, to which the defendant is compelled to put in an answer upon oath; all defences to the Bill or Information are made in the shape of pleas or demurrers; the pleas, demurrers, and answers are filed in the Record and Writ Office. In Ireland there are Masters; in England Vice-Chancellors and their Chief Clerks.

The Masters in Ireland make reports on references in general cause petitions, and in Minor and Lunacy matters. In cause petitions under the 15th section of Irish Chancery Regulation Act, 1850, on the other hand, they hear causes and make decretal orders. There is an appeal from these orders of the Masters to the Master of the Rolls, and thence to the Chancery Appeal Court. In England appeals from the Vice-Chancellor are direct to the Chancery Appeal Court.

In Ireland there is a greater subdivision of offices, and a different distribution of business from what takes place in England. In Ireland there is no Master in Lunacy; but the business discharged by the Masters in Lunacy in England is divided between the Commissioners for holding Inquiries in Lunacy and the Receiver Master and other Masters in Ireland.

The jurisdiction of the Landed Estates Court being peculiar to Ireland, the form of return adopted has been based on the form settled by the Judges, with the assent of the Lord Chancellor of Ireland and the Lord Justice of Appeal, under the provisions of the 21st and 22nd Vic., c. 72, with the addition of appropriate headings, to show the proceedings in the Court under the Landed Property Improvement Ireland Act, 1860.

Complete returns have been received from the Court of Probate, as well respecting the business of the court and principal registry as respecting the proceedings before the District Registrars.

Returns are given showing the proceedings in the Ecclesiastical Courts in causes other than divorce and matrimonial causes, and they correspond to the similar returns in England.

Returns are also given of the proceedings in divorce and matrimonial causes. The jurisdiction in these causes, in Ireland, is vested in the Ecclesiastical Courts, and is similar to the jurisdiction which existed in England before the establishment of the Divorce Court there.

The proceedings in the High Court of Admiralty in Ireland are given in three returns. The modern reforms and extensions of jurisdiction which have been applied to the procedure of the High Court of Admiralty in England within the last quarter of a century have not yet been extended to Ireland.

The proceedings in Bankruptcy and Insolvency are contained in four returns. For these returns forms different from those used in the English Statistics have been adopted, in consequence of the practice and procedure in Bankruptcy in Ireland being different from the practice and procedure in England. One of the tables is an abstract of certain returns which are annually made to Parliament, under the provisions of the Irish Bankruptcy Act, but which have never been printed.

Returns are given of proceedings in Courts of Appeal, viz. :—The House of Lords, the Privy Council in Ireland, the Court of Chancery Appeal, the Exchequer Chamber, and the High Court of Delegates.

This being the first occasion on which complete Judicial Statistics of the Irish Law Courts have been collected and compiled, it was not possible to institute a comparison between the proceedings of the year comprised in the Returns and those of former years, which forms so large and valuable a portion of the Introductory Report accompanying the English Judicial Statistics; and the numerous minute differences in practice and procedure between the Courts of England and Ireland would render any useful comparison of the Statistics of the Courts of the two countries a matter of considerable difficulty, and one requiring much time and consideration.

NOTE.—The Judicial Committee of the Privy Council constituted by 12 and 13 Vic. c. 77, no longer exists, appeals from the Landed Estates Court being now heard by the Court of Appeal in Chancery. The Privy Council has appellate jurisdiction in cases of Tithe Composition, and of improvement or dilapidation of Ecclesiastical residences, but no such cases have occurred for several years. The Council acts judicially (not on appeal) in some cases under the Church Temporalities Acts, and on applications for prohibition of burials in grounds where their continuance is alleged to be injurious, if any opposition be made to such applications. Only two orders for closing burial grounds were made in 1863, and both were unopposed. There have not for many years been any proceedings of a judicial character under the Church Temporalities Acts.
